Creosoting Plant At Lumby Destroyed

Plans For Rebuilding Are Announced By Bell Lumber Company

LUMBY, B.C., March 14.—Plans for rebuilding of the Bell Lumber Co.'s new creosoting plant, which was completely destroyed by fire at 2:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, were announced this week.

As a result of this blaze at least 15 men will be temporarily out of employment here. The plant was built only last summer at a cost said to be $27,000.

Just prior to the fire the plant was filled with three-quarters of a car of poles for treating. It is believed that the fire was started by the creosote, with consequent disastrous results. Insurance was carried, it is stated by officials of the company.

Included in the loss were the dipping tanks and compressors.

Black smoke poured over the road with occasional flashes of flame and the crowd was forced back as explosions were expected. These occurred at 3:30 and 4 o'clock as each tank finally went.

The Forestry Branch's pump, and all available hands were soon on the scene but nothing could be done to subdue a fire of that nature.

The Provincial police came up from Vernon and the Vernon Fire Brigade's No. 2 truck and seven men.

Two carloads of poles standing on the siding near the plant were moved out of danger by tractor. For a time H. Sigale & Co.'s Garage on the opposite side of the road, containing three new trucks, two trailers and an air compressor, which only arrived here on Sunday, was threatened.

There is no doubt but that the snow saved Lumby from being destroyed, for had this occurred in the summer nothing could have stopped both pole yards from burning and thus spreading the conflagration.

LUMBY MEETING OPPOSES SHEEP GRAZING PERMIT

Vigorous Discussion Is Feature Of Session Of Sportsmen

Despite lengthy explanations by District Forester A. E. Parlow, of Kamloops, and by Commissioner James Cunningham, of the B.C. Game Board, members of the Fish and Game Association Monday night voiced their strong opposition to granting of any sheep grazing permits on Park mountain.

United support was accorded a motion by C. D. "Charlie" Bloom and John Gienler that no grazing permit be issued by the B.C. Forest Service anywhere in the Lumby district or in adjoining districts.

Speaker after speaker at this Lumby meeting rose from the audience and declared that introduction of sheep on Park mountain would be highly injurious to the game, particularly deer, that range there. Mr. Bloom was spearhead of the drive and his opinions met with unqualified approval and support.

Such well known old time residents of the Lumby area as Fred Warner, Fred Schunter, Bill Schunter, Ed. Schunter, Chris Schunter, and others said if sheep were allowed on Park mountain, described as a reservoir for game for the entire area, deer and bear would suffer.

It was alleged at the meeting that R. A. Davidson, of Vernon, has applied to the Forest Branch for a grazing permit on Park mountain. It was to prevent the granting of this or of similar applications that the meeting was called.

Earl "Cop" Quessell, president of the Lumby association, presided in a thoroughly capable manner. Others at the head table were Mr. Parlow, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Bloom, Joe Martin, association secretary, and R. M. Robertson, of Kamloops, inspector "C" division, B.C. Game Department.

At the Kamloops convention last June of the Interior Fish & Game Association.

MANSON DECISION IN BUILDING ACTION IS QUASHED IN VICTORIA

What Will Be Fate Of Structure Erected In Defiance Of Kelowna Council?

KELOWNA, B.C., March 15.—The British Columbia Court of Appeal has quashed the Supreme Court decision of Mr. Justice Manson in the much-discussed case of the city of Kelowna, versus William Nyhuk. The case involved Nyhuk's erection of a portion of a building on Bernard Avenue in Kelowna without obtaining a building permit from the city council. This decision by the court of appeal, which was handed down Tuesday, in Victoria, upholds the original verdict of E. M. Carruthers, in Kelowna, and also upholds the validity of the building by-law, a section of which was thrown over by Mr. Justice Manson.

William Nyhuk was charged last fall with erecting a building without obtaining a permit. He appealed by writ of certiorari and in the Supreme Court at Kelowna, Mr. Justice Manson quashed the verdict and ordered a section of the Kelowna building by-law was invalid.

Following this, Mr. Manson's decision, Nyhuk proceeded with the erection of his building on Bernard Avenue and has since completed it. The fate of the building now lies with the Kelowna council, which will probably study the problem at the next session on Monday, March 20.

Chief Justice Archer Martin and Mr. Justices M. A. Macdonald, W. C. J. E. MacQuarrie and Gordon McGee, all in favor of quashing the decision, while Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran dissented.

DOG SURVIVES AFTER 18 DAYS IN MANHOLE

To Have Survived For 18 Consecutive Days Without Food Of Any Kind And Exposed To The Elements Was The Remarkable Experience Of A Cocker Spaniel Owned By W. A. Sigale, Of This City.

The dog disappeared from its owner's home on Mission Hill and was found last week lying in a manhole not far away, then removed, which had evidently been covered. The discovery was made by a group of children while sleigh-riding. The animal is now as well as ever and when rescued was able to walk.

Tension In Europe And Orient Grows

LONDON, England, March 15.—The first shot was fired in the race between nations for new territory consequent on Chancellor Hitler's dramatic and sudden coup, which wiped Czechoslovakia off the map.

Hungarian troops immediately crossed into the Ruthenian or Carpatho-Ukraine sector of what was once Czechoslovakia and reached the border of Poland with whom Hungary wants to make a common boundary. They were fired on by artillery of the autonomous government set up there yesterday under Hitler's protection.

After placing Konrad Henleki, Sudeten Nazi leader, in charge of Bohemia, and Buerker, administrator of Austria, in charge of Moravia, the President of Czechoslovakia, bowing to the inevitable, had asked Hitler to take these two last remaining states under his protection.

Great Britain and France are determined not to take sides in the new issue. Russia has not indicated any intention of resisting further advances of Germany, which brings Nazi rule to the border of the rich territories of the Ukraine.

PAY FINES FOR SETTING FALSE ALARMS IN CITY

Two Kamloops Youths Are Brought Before Local Police Magistrate

During the early morning hours of Thursday, March 9, scores of residents of this city were awakened by the sounding of the siren at the Fire Hall and subsequently by the noise of fire trucks responding to the alarm.

Two Kamloops youths were apprehended by firemen and by a Provincial Police constable near the scene of one alarm, but after questioning were allowed to return to their home city.

On Monday morning last these men, Joseph A. McKinnon, 22, and Howard Fortman, 24, appeared in city police court here and were found guilty by Magistrate William Morley of setting the false alarm, under a section of the Criminal Code.

Both elected for trial before the magistrate, at both pleaded not guilty. After their conviction, at separate trials, their counsel, C. Robinson, of Kamloops, explained that if they had admitted to the charges he was sure that the magistrate would have had no option but to impose jail sentences. A conviction, however, left punishment at the magistrate's discretion.

McKinnon was fined $50 and $7.50 costs or in default sentenced to 60 days in jail, and Fortman was fined $25 and $4.75 costs or alternatively sentenced to 30 days in jail. Both youths said that they received nominal wages, and were given six weeks to complete payment of the levies by Magistrate Morley. McKinnon, a beer parlor attendant, told the court he had a mother to support.

Upon learning his occupation and his age, the magistrate told McKinnon: "You are too young to work in a beer parlor. Get out as soon as you can, that's my advice to you. You will learn things there you will never learn."

No defence was entered at McKinnon's trial. His counsel's motion, after the prosecution evidence was entered, for dismissal of the case, was denied.

"I am compelled to believe that the evidence has established the charge," the magistrate said, "and no possibility for anyone else to be concerned."

Mr. Robinson argued that the evidence showed a very strong suspicion, even a possibility, that one of the two charged turned in the case, was denied.

OKANAGAN 'SPIEL' TO BE HELD HERE MARCH 30-APRIL 1

Curlers From All Parts Of Interior To Enjoy Contests In Arena

When the second annual Okanagan bonspiel gets under way in the Civic Arena early Thursday morning, March 30, curlers from all parts of the interior will commence competitions for the five trophies offered.

The 'spiel, which is expected to attract some 30 Vernon and outside rinks, will be staged on Thursday and Friday, March 30 and 31, and Saturday, April 1, it was announced last week.

Five sheets of ice will be used. It is expected that there will be 15 rinks from this city and an equal number from such points as Armstrong, Enderby, Salmon Arm, Kamloops, Vancouver, Princeton, Trail, Revelstoke, Kelowna, and Penticton.

Details of the competitions are announced this week by Carl Stevenson, secretary of the Vernon Curling Club, the host organization, are: McCullum trophy—open to all rinks winning first round of the Grand Challenge.

Buckfield trophy—open to all rinks losing the first round of the Grand Challenge.

Wildfire trophy—open to all rinks losing the first round of the Liphardt and Buckfield competitions.

B.O. Box cup—open to all rinks not reaching the semi-finals of any other competition.

LOWER MILL RATE IS STRUCK AT PENTICTON

PENTICTON, B.C., March 15.—The mill rate has been struck here at 44 mills for the forthcoming year. Last year the rate was 46 mills. Estimates have been adopted. The new tax rate will produce a revenue of $125,163.

TO BLACK-TOP ROAD KELOWNA, B.C., MARCH 15

N. Stowe, assistant district road engineer, assured the president of the Summer Liberal Association that the black-topping of last year's road between Penticton-Summerland road is in the estimates for this year. It is reported that the work will commence this spring.

Penticton Receives $15,000 For Airport

PENTICTON, B.C., March 15.—Penticton's airport will be granted aid for development work totalling $15,000 this week from the federal government.

Mr. J. W. Johnson, who is in en route home from Ottawa, where he has been for the past ten days seeking aid from the federal government for the project.

He further advises that if Penticton ratepayers pass a by-law for domestic water improvement, $40,000 of the Dominion government's "cheque" money will be available for that purpose.

The sum obtained should result in the most rigid government standards, since the specifications were made up by always engineers. It is not likely that the illumination will be provided until next year.

The federal government will provide $5,000 in actual cash. An additional $5,000 in relief labor will be provided for, making up $15,000 of the total of $17,000, estimated necessary for completion. The municipality would pay the remaining ten percent of the total.

Will They Topple Tonight?

Bralorne Must Come From Behind Tonight To Stay In The Finals

Edmonton Capitals Won First Fixture Tuesday By 4-1 Count

Bralorne's Coy Cup holding Gold-diggers tonight, Thursday, must repeat the best comeback tactics they have shown in two years of hockey campaigning in this city if they are to stay in the running for the Western Canada Intermediate championship against the speeding Edmonton Capitals, Alberta titleholders.

Up to last week's end those Gold-diggers had been beaten only twice in two years of hockey warfare here—and on each of these occasions they staged powerful comebacks to copy the honors then at stake.

Whether Bralorne can muster their ranks in close enough formation to shut out the Capitals, 4-1 winners in the first game of the Western Canada semi-finals Tuesday night, will be seen this evening at the Civic Arena. Gold-diggers will have the double task imposed on them of overcoming a three-point lead in the first place and then of going on to outscore Edmonton. The solving of this question should prove interesting indeed.

Bralorne's performances will be viewed partly in the light of their earlier efforts here. Last spring they were beaten by Camrose Brierqueters in the first game of the Western Canada finals, but managed to pound out a win later for the title. Two weeks prior to that time they lost the first game of the B.O. championship series to Vernon, and then turned round to overwhelm the locals in the remainder of the series.

Edmonton may be counted on to provide even faster skating tonight than they showed in the opening game—and speed was their chief stock in trade even then.

They arrived here only a few hours before the game and behind the scenes they were weary travellers. The Capitals earned the right to proceed west by defeating Gleichen Gunners 7-3 in the Alberta finals. They played in Gleichen last Friday night, in Calgary on Saturday, and then travelled home to Edmonton, and finally on to Vernon. They worked out briefly Tuesday afternoon at the arena and by the time that night's tilt was over were indeed a weary crew.

Bralorne did not produce the hockey they showed in winning back Trail All Stars in three hectic games last week. They can play better and if they should do so tonight the game will undoubtedly rise above the rather sluggish form of Tuesday.

Little Bob Graham was the big reason why the Capitals are today enjoying a three-point lead in the semi-finals. This 27-year-old right winger covered a lot of ice after he "got going" in the second period and obtained two goals and two assists.

"Pills" Purcell again showed he is the lone Bralorne forward who can be counted on to score with any degree of regularity when he obtained the Gold-diggers' first—and only—goal on a pass from Art Morfil. Purcell pushed the puck into the net after Ted Motterhead, who was the assist laid down. It was the first score of the fixture.

But Edmonton evened up on a slightly sorry play seven minutes later that saw Pete Yanow get credit with assists from both Herb Horn and Bob Graham.

A feature of this and of the subsequent games will be the speed of the Capitals.

What Managers Are Saying

BILL PHILLIPS, EDMONTON

"We were able to get a very good advantage in the first game of our series against Bralorne. We certainly are out to retain our lead and even increase it tonight," says Bill Phillips, manager of the Edmonton Capitals.

"I may say we've travelled around a good deal with the club and never have we had so cordial a welcome anywhere as when we came to Vernon. Everybody has been wonderful to us. And you certainly deserve to be very proud of your arena."

BOYD CLARKE, BRALORNE

"The boys are going to be playing with everything they have tonight," comments Boyd Clarke, speedy forward and now the manager of the Bralorne team for its series in this city. "We missed Slim Anderson the other night, who had an injured hand. But he'll be playing tonight. We had an off night for that first game. Now you can depend on us to do our very best to get that title for our own province. We also appreciate the good wishes being offered us by Vernon supporters. It certainly makes a difference to the boys. We do not underestimate the opposition. Sportingly he admits Bralorne is a good team. But Bralorne has shown before it has lots of come-back power."

PRESENTATIONS TO MIDGET CHAMPIONS

The B.C. midget hockey champions, Vernon's own Ily-drophones squad, were guests of honor with their manager and trainer, Fred Smith, at a pleasing banquet arranged by the West Canadian Hydro Electric Corporation in the Chateau Cafe on Wednesday evening.

Each of the boys of the affair was the presentation of individual trophies to each of the players and to Mr. Smith by Mayor Harry Bowman.

The presentation banquet, tendered by the company, was presided over by David Glen, of Vancouver, managing director, who highly complimented the winning team and its manager.

Also at the banquet were Arena Commission Chairman K. W. Kinnear; President E. Clarke of the Board of Trade; President C. A. Hayden of the Rotary Club; President Harold Galbraith of the Klammern Club; Principal W. R. Pupper of the Vernon High School; J. L. Brothier, Vice-President of the Vernon Hockey Club; and officials of the company.

EDMONTON WINS WHEELER, BURROWS WILL VISIT VALLEY

Colonel R. L. Wheeler, Assistant Director of Marketing Service, and F. P. Burrows, Secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council, will be two visitors from Ottawa in this city from April 13 to 15, according to present indications.

These two government officials, so prominently identified with the fruit industry, will be going to the Fern Franchises fair. They will return to Vancouver about April 12, and will then proceed to this valley.

Six Independent Shipping Firms Form New Company

Growers' Committee And Shippers To Confer on Central Selling Issues At Kelowna Today

Export As Well As Domestic Control Supervision Is Sought

CERTAIN PHASES TO BE DEBATED TODAY

President A. K. Loyd Makes Statements In Letter To All Shippers

If the maximum results from any central selling scheme are to be obtained, export, as well as domestic, sales should be under the supervision of any designated single agency given the task of marketing the fruit crop of the Okanagan.

Such was the opinion of the Loyd Committee on central selling given in a letter forwarded by the committee to shipping firms in the valley—and the Kootenays late Friday night. The letter asked the shippers to meet the committee in Kelowna today, Thursday, so that certain phases of the export deal might be discussed.

The letter from the committee is the first pronouncement, since the committee began its work some weeks ago, giving any indication of the path along which the committee's deliberations were leading it.

The letter forwarded over Mr. Loyd's signature stated that inasmuch as the conclusions reached by the committee will concern all those interested in the shipping plan under the supervision of the designated single agency, the committee has also decided, with this end in view, to request the provincial government to allow the B.C. Fruit Board to designate an agency with power to market one-hundred percent of the tree fruit grown in the area under its jurisdiction.

The committee which on Friday last adjourned until today, reconvenes this morning to proceed with its work of drafting the plan under which it will suggest that central selling should operate. This afternoon, Thursday, the committee meets the shippers.

HERE TODAY

"ROUND THE WORLD" HIKE IS HIS HOBBY

Ex-Sergeant "Jock" Scott, who is engaged on a round the world walking tour, is expected to reach this city today, Thursday, from Kamloops, after a long and arduous journey from the main line centre. Scott is en route to the New York world's fair and plans to hike across Canada.

He is said never to accept a "lift" from motorists and before starting his present tour walked 25,000 miles from London to Cape Town, South Africa, and from there to New York.

On the tour on which he is now engaged he has covered 7,000 miles. Scott carries with him a log book which he has stamped from time to time, and after a long and arduous journey from the main line centre, Scott is en route to the New York world's fair and plans to hike across Canada.

GOOD NEWS FOR DAIRY FARMERS IS RELEASED

Stocks of Creamery Butter in Canada Are Now Reported Down

Stocks of creamery butter in Canada are down. This is good news for dairy farmers. Supplies have been purchased by commodity speculators many of whom, figuratively speaking, had "lost their shirt" in the butter markets this winter. Given hope of profit and knowing they had "a rope around their necks" these individuals have been disposing of their holdings of butter at increasing quantities have gone forward to the British markets for what could be got.

At the first of February creamery butter surplus stocks in the Dominion were 15 1/2 million pounds. At the end of February the surplus of butter stood at 12 million. As production was increased by 10 percent for the whole Dominion and exports of butter only 2 1/2 million pounds the logical deduction is that Canadians are now eating more butter. The nation's domestic supply is increased.

While the creamery butter situation cannot be considered favorable due to increased production it is not as big a worry as the cheese situation in Western Canada. Cheese prices are down. The nation's cheese production is down. Freight protection enjoyed by western plants is 3 cents making Quebec wholesale quotations now 12 1/2 to 13 cents per pound. Production of cheese is soaring. Soon it is feared output will be greater in Alberta than in Saskatchewan, both Alberta and British Columbia.

When this situation develops this spring it will mean western cheese must find a market in the east. Calgary prices then will be Montreal quotations minus 3 cents for prepaid freight. On the basis of today's Canadian Commodity Exchange prices this means a monetary value of 7 cents per pound for cheese in Alberta.

The mild weather and abundance of feed are circumstances that have greatly disturbed the dairy industry of all North America. Increased industrial activity should effect an early improvement.

UNUSUAL CASE FOR COUNTY COURT HERE

Jury May Be Empanelled For First Time In Such An Action

Listed for trial at this month's County Court session opening on Thursday of next week is a rather unusual action for $1,000 damages, as it is a case that will be heard by a five-man civil jury.

So far as is remembered no jury trial has been heard in County Court here and this is indeed rather unique in annals of British Columbia jurisprudence, in actions of this nature.

Plaintiff in the damage action is Peter Samchenko, of Armstrong, who is suing the Canadian Pacific Railway for $1,000, the limit for County Court actions. Samchenko alleges that the railway was negligent in an accident on October 12 last when an incoming O.P. train killed three horses belonging to plaintiff at a level crossing seven miles north of Vernon.

A panel of ten men will be selected for the action, and from them five will be chosen. Defendant and plaintiff counsel have the right to challenge two jurors each without cause and any number for cause.

R. R. Earle, K.C., Samchenko's counsel, stated Wednesday night that there is a possibility a private settlement will be reached shortly. Otherwise the case will proceed next week.

MRS. LANDER HONORED

KELOWNA, B.C., March 15.—Mrs. A. O. Lander has been chosen captain of the ladies' section of the Kelowna Golf Club.

VERNON HIGH SCHOOL TAKES CAGE TROPHY

Basketball Tournament At Kamloops Featured By Close Contests

In a closely fought game at Kamloops last Saturday, the strong Vernon High School boys basketball squad nosed out the Kamloops High in the finals by one point to take the Bruin-Bear trophy, a basketball supremacy among the High Schools of the North Okanagan and Main Line. Final score in this really thrilling game was 18-17, the outcome of two hard-fought periods of 15 minutes each.

High school basketball was Maurice King, with 10 points. King played a sizzling game, making numerous plays and breaking up the opposition with hard checking. Alf, Sengotta came next on the scoring with 4 points, and gave his usual performance of gangly ball handling. Star player was Bill MacLachlan, who had the strenuous job of checking Kamloops' ace forward, Harry Smith. He got a great hand from the crowd when he left the floor with four personals. Les Smith switched to forward position and also played wonderfully. The other players of the Kamloops ace. Others on the team, who all played fine combination ball, were M. Pepper, B. Doble, and D. Howrie in guard positions, and D. Nielsen, E. Doble, H. Passmore and J. Hainsine on the forward line.

Credit for their fine performance

HIGH SCHOOL START CONSTRUCTION OF ARMSTRONG POST OFFICE STRUCTURE

ARMSTRONG, B.C., March 15.—A start has been made on the new Post Office building at Armstrong. The site is to be cleared on the site of the old Armstrong Hotel, destroyed by fire a few years ago, and workmen are busy this week clearing up the site and making the necessary excavations.

The contractors for the work are Pacific Engineers, Vancouver, and they are in the employ of the Vancouver, to supervise the work and he will remain on the job until the work is completed which is expected to be early in August. A considerable portion of the work has been sub-contracted, the excavating, gravel and trucking going to A. E. Warner, Armstrong, electrical to Okanagan Electric, Vernon; brick, plaster and stone work, Phillips & Purvis, Vernon; plumbing, heating, sheet metal and roofing, Harvey Brown, Armstrong; painting, O. H. Apple, Vernon; C. H. Hardy, Armstrong; and J. H. Apple, Vernon, appointed clerk of works and inspector for the Dominion Government.

Local labor is to be used as much as possible, preference being given to returned men and married men with families.

100 BANQUETED AT OCCUPATIONAL SCHOOL

ARMSTRONG, B. C., March 14.—Guest night at the Rural Occupational School at Armstrong was held on Thursday when a party numbering about 100 assembled for the banquet, which had been prepared by the teachers and pupils of the school. The guests included Mayor Adair, Reeve Noble, members of the executive of the Women's and Farmers Institutes, and the members of the committees which had assisted in the setting up of the school.

The dining hall and the long tables, which had been tastefully decorated by the pupils and lit by candles set in apples for candlesticks, provided a most pleasing setting for the function.

B. Boss, who filled the post of chairman in a very able manner, introduced the various speakers and others who contributed to the program. Speakers, who all spoke most highly of the work being done by the school, included Mayor Adair, Reeve Noble, Mat Hassen who told the gathering of the manner in which the school had been secured, Mrs. W. H. Mills, and M. S. Middleton.

The students of the school, in addition to providing an excellent banquet for the company, took a prominent part in the program. Bob Fraser welcomed the guests. Bert Schubert gave a most interesting talk on the history of the district from the time of the first settlers. Alayne Loyd gave a comprehensive review of the work of the school and the courses that had been taught. She laid particular stress on the value of the home economics and handicraft work to the girls who had attended the school. A harmonica duet by M. Buchanan and H. Winter was so well received that they had to give a second number.

Kenneth Caple, principal of the school, was the last of the speakers and expressed the appreciation of himself and the teaching staff of what had been said of the value of the work done by the school. He said that they had enjoyed their stay in Armstrong and were highly gratified at the response and co-operation they had met with in their work in connection with the school.

Following this address Miss Stewart took charge of the folk dancing in which several of the guests joined and all, both young and old, enjoyed themselves.

POLE SHIPMENTS ARE HEAVY FROM LUMBY

LUMBY, B. C., March 14.—Sigalet & Co. Ltd., shipped out 15 cars of poles last week and both yards have been busy recently.

Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Schunter are being congratulated on the birth of a son last week. Lumbly Girls basketball team, accompanied by Mrs. Frances Simms, enjoyed the week end trip to Kamloops, where they met and played other teams. P. Murphy has been coaching the team, which expects to do better next year.

E. Gynne celebrated his 76th birthday on Friday.

J. Davis, who was taken to the Vernon Jubilee Hospital on Thursday, is progressing.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleophas Le Blanc and family have moved down to Alhert Le Blanc's farm.

Changes have been made in a couple of the school bus routes in order to accommodate the Rollings Lake pupils. The Lumbly-Mabel Lake bus travels up Albers Road; and the bus going East of Lumbly, picks up pupils at Rollings Lake corner. Additional desks have also been built for the new pupils.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO E. K. APPIEGARTH

The death of Ernest Kendall Appiegarth, which occurred here on Friday, March 10, has been a source of grief to his many friends throughout this city and district.

Of a reserved and quiet nature, he was a man of outstanding character, whose devotion to his friends and to his church earned for him a great volume of respect.

High tribute was paid to his memory by the Rev. H. O. B. Gibson, who conducted the funeral services in All Saints Church on Monday afternoon, assisted by the Rev. A. C. Mackie.

The late Mr. Appiegarth, who was 72 on his last birthday, March 4, was a native of Watford, Ont. He received his education there and at Hamilton, and as a young man carried on extensive sheep raising activities in Montana, in partnership with a brother.

In 1904 he first came to the Vernon district. A year afterwards, he moved back to Guelph, Ont., and there married Miss Ada Dobble, who returned with him to Vernon. Here they made their home ever since.

He had been engaged in mixed farming activity, and in addition to his church work, which always claimed much of his attention, he served for a time as a school trustee from the Lavington area.

Surviving Mr. Appiegarth, besides his widow, are a brother, Percy Appiegarth, of Pasadena, Cal., and a sister, Mrs. William Van Arum, of Victoria.

"Stand Up and Fight" comes to screen here. A co-starring team of Wallace Berry, veteran of 20 years of film service, and Robert Taylor, top male name among the younger group, makes its first appearance in "Stand Up and Fight," outdoor action drama describing the bitter rivalry between railroad and stage coach lines of the 1880s. The picture comes on Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18, to the Capitol Theatre.

Florence Hogg, by virtue of outstanding work in "East Company" and "Sweetheart," wins her most important assignment to date as Mrs. Taylor's leading lady. Miss Hogg is seen as the owner of a stage coach line of which Berry is manager and for which Taylor, a bankrupt young Maryland aristocrat, is forced to work.

On His Majesty's Service

Alan Frederick Lascelles, left, second secretary to King George VI, arrived incognito in the United States to arrange details of the royal visit. With Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, he conferred with officials of the state department in Washington.

Sheep Grazing . . .

Associations, a resolution was adopted asking that the Forest Branch refer all applications for grazing rights to the Game Commission and that where sportsmen's and sheepmen's interests conflict a thorough investigation of the area in question be made.

Mr. Parlow was the first speaker of the evening and reviewed the text of the resolution, which he described as "perfectly fair."

Three contentious areas are to the fore—Three Brothers Mountain, Porcupine ridge, and Park mountain.

Last June he investigated Porcupine, east of Lumbly. He came to the conclusion that this was a bear country and that the total area suitable for grazing was very small, scarcely adequate to maintain 500 ewes.

Therefore Mr. Parlow's recommendation was that Porcupine be closed and this was done.

Following this, Mr. Parlow and a government grazing expert, Mr. Parlow visited Park mountain in September and there the types of range were mapped. It was found that the area was divided naturally into north and south by a ravine. Better feed was located on the south and total number of acres was about 4,500. South would support over 700 ewes and the north range the same number. There were no live signs of bear and but few of deer.

"I came to the conclusion that Park mountain is a good grazing area," Mr. Parlow said, "and this I recommended to Victoria."

In summing up the District Forester said that the Kamloops district contains practically all the available range land in the province. Some 43,000 sheep are owned in B. C. and there is no great possibility of much increase. To supply needs of the people 80,000 carcasses of sheep are sent in every year from Alberta, New Zealand, and Washington. This is not desirable from an economic standpoint and any reasonable move to increase home production should be encouraged.

Grazing permits may be cancelled for cause at any time "and we are quite prepared to do so," Mr. Parlow concluded.

"We're still going to fight the damned sheep," Mr. Bloom declared in reply. He then asked the president to call on people from the audience to express their views on the Park mountain situation.

Fred Schunter said that Park mountain is "one of the finest game areas in B. C. I don't know another like it in B. C. today." This statement was verified by Bill Schunter.

An old time resident of Shuswap Falls, Fred Warner, said that on Park he has seen goat, three species of bear, and deer in abundance. On one occasion he noted as guide for a party obtaining specimens for a museum. In the summer a visitor to the range would not see deer there because of the prevalence of fires which drive the game back to the mountains. Fires there are so common, Mr. Warner said, that he did not see how sheep could range.

Bill Sigalet said that he did not know of a better game reservoir for the whole area than Park. Vigorous clapping greeted his statement that "you will never get sheep up there but over our dead bodies."

E. A. Tammie, of Chetwynde, said that the reason no deer were on Park mountain last summer was owing to the exceptionally dry weather. This drove the animals further up to the pinacles that ever before, but might not occur again.

All speakers were definitely of the opinion that introduction of sheep to Park mountain would greatly harm the area as a deer country and source of supply for the district. Mr. Parlow, on the other hand, maintained that at various places in the province both deer and sheep could be observed on the same territory.

Mr. Bloom again entered the discussion and read a petition to the game association protesting introduction of sheep on the range. This was signed by Albert Procter and 47 other residents of the Mahol Lake district. Mr. Bloom said he was confident that over 95 percent of the people in Lumbly would sign a similar petition and offered to obtain the signatures.

In reply Mr. Parlow said that the Forest Service "has gone into this thing impartially. I am still of the opinion that we can get another crop—lamb, wool, and mutton—and not do a bit of damage."

Commissioner Cunningham complimented the gathering on its moderation of language in approaching a subject evidently so contentious. "The Forestry Branch is out to do its best to get as many crops as possible from the land," he said.

There will be opposition to introduction of sheep in any part of B. C., he said, but it is important to remember that of the five percent of arable land available the best use should be made.

Mr. Cunningham said that before his department could fight issuance of grazing permits, proof would have to be forthcoming of actual damage. The law, he said, would take care of herders or others breaking hunting regulations.

Following the business session, Mr. Cunningham showed splendid color films of wild life. The scenes of Three Brothers Mountain in the Similkameen tended to show that three years of grazing by sheep had not changed the feed and that there was an abundance of deer.

LECTURES ON AFRICA. PENTICTON, B. C., March 13.—Pentiction Rotarians heard an interesting lecture on the wild-life of Africa, given by one who is well acquainted with the zoology of the "dark continent." John Gilmour, ex-teacher from South Africa, to the Pentiction schools staff was the speaker, his talk being illustrated by colored film slides.

Rules governing the size and weight of bears were made in 1872 and still are the same.

RELIEF PAYMENTS FOR FEBRUARY were reported to have totalled $591.30, which was a slight increase over the previous month.

Two by-laws were given the third readings—one to authorize the transfer of a parcel of land to the name of J. D. Stickle, the other for the purpose of dividing the municipality into wards and fixing the boundaries of the various wards.

The advisability of changing the date for payment of taxes having been suggested by the auditor, the matter was discussed at considerable length. The advantage of having an earlier date for the payment of taxes was that it would facilitate the preparation of the annual statements so that they might be ready for the ratepayers' annual meeting. No action was taken on the matter being left over for further consideration before making any decision.

PENTICTON, B. C., March 13.—At its annual meeting in the Inco Hotel on Monday night the Pentiction and District Fish and Game Protective Association heard reports from the various chairmen, and also elected its officers for 1939.

Commissioner J. G. Cunningham, of the game department was among the speakers at the gathering. By unanimous choice Gordon Toomey was re-elected president for the fifth term. Laurence Vander of Okanagan Falls was unanimous choice as vice-president, and Ed. Aldredge unanimously elected as secretary-treasurer. Directors of the club, in Pentiction, will be R. J. Douglas, Clarence Burth, Cliff Hultgren, H. T. Griffiths, Charles Clarke, Granville Morgan, Barney Bent, and George Meldrum; the outside directors will be announced later.

HORSE INNOCULATION ASKED AT ARMSTRONG

Spallumcheen Council Approves Of Move To Form Pure Seed Zone

ARMSTRONG, B. C., March 14.—Spallumcheen Municipal Council met on Saturday afternoon and considerable time was taken up with the hearing of deputations.

The first was O. W. Nordstrom, who interviewed the council with regard to the need to have horses inoculated against the "sleeping sickness" which is prevalent in the prairies. He asked the council as to whether assistance could be got in the procuring of the necessary serum and the inoculation of the horses. The council after hearing Mr. Nordstrom instructed the clerk to write the Provincial Department of Agriculture enquiring what assistance could be obtained.

The next delegation, headed by R. G. Thomson, asked the approval and support of the council of a proposal to establish a protected seed area in the municipality. Mr. Grant explained the purpose of the area and pointed out that the establishment of such an area would not interfere with general farming but it would be a measure of great benefit to growers of certified seed in the district. The council endorsed the proposal to set up a protected area and agreed to give it all the support possible.

H. Page Brown brought to the attention of the council that the B. C. Inland Rifle Association proposed to hold a three-day rifle meet at Armstrong in the early summer and asked the council to give financial assistance to the project. The council took no action, leaving the matter in abeyance in the meantime.

A FRIENDLY CHAT AMONG WOMEN

By One Of Them

Have you ever thought about hands?

There are so many different types of hands. Just look around your own circle of friends. There are the long, lean hands with tapering fingers which are said to indicate the artistic and musical; the short, squat hand which is synonymous with common sense and good judgment; the small, dainty hand; the warm, loving and generous hand with its matching handclasp. Then there is the hand with the fine skin which betokens its owner's sophistication and good taste.

Hands are the things of life. And there is the cruel hand. I remember once being really frightened by a certain pair of hands belonging to someone whose nature was vindictive, large hands—as cruel to look at as the nature of the owner unfortunately turned out to be.

Artists find expression in the hands of their subjects. Did you ever notice the beautiful hands of the Gainsborough ladies? Then take music; there are the "Pale Hands" of lyric fame; also "Tired Hands" from a well known melody which comes to mind, and doubtless many others.

Although we housekeepers can do much to care for our hands, to try to keep them as nice as we are able, they are, nevertheless, subjected to the ravages of soapy water, fires, ashes, frosty weather, and many other duties which render them red and rough. Still, the shape of our hands are as God made them, and cannot be changed.

A good deal is said about poise nowadays. How a woman manages her hands has a great deal to do with the aspect she presents to the outer world. You never see an actress, for instance, at a loss to know what to do with her hands.
If we could stop being conscious of them, it would be all right. Crossing one's arms in an unbecoming way, or thrusting hands into pockets, are all a form of nervousness.

It is astonishing, too, how the hands react to mental or physical disturbances. At times of physical disorders some hands will be moist with perspiration, and of course the hot hand is always a danger signal.
I can generally manage my facial expression, (or at least, I hope I can), but I can never manage my hands, which, at times of stress of mind, or shall we say, a mental crisis, are icy cold.

One word, however. If you have small hands, don't wear large rings of the costume jewelry variety.
In those far-off days when I was very young, in an equal far-off land, come the middle of March, we used to go "primrosing." Those of you who hail from the South, and other parts of England, will know what I mean.

My sister and I used to set off, accompanied by an older person,
our destination being a certain wood.
Here the mistletoe dripped its waxen berries at Christmas time; here also the first primrose and bluebell bloomed, although I can never remember the sun shining much there.

At first we
THE PRIMROSE used to find a small bouquet, which we carried home to our mother, as is the way of children, much witted by our hot and eager little hands. This was a season to be looked forward to, and when at its height, larger bunches were easily gathered, which were packed in a shoe box and sent to friends in London town, only fifty miles away, but it seemed an interminable distance to us.

And when the day of life is hot,
and its burden heavy, the memories of these childish pleasures of the long ago almost provoke a tear.
This little flower is not very fond of our climate. It is too dry here; unless one is fortunate enough to have a damp, shady location. It has distinguished itself in the past, for the Primrose League was founded in memory of that great statesman, Disraeli, and on the anniversary of this date, which is April 19, many Englishmen used to wear a primrose in their buttonhole. I daresay some still do.

We have chatted about umbrellas before in this column; here is the latest name for this time-honored appendage, which speaks for itself.
I expect all of you have noticed the habit of another great and famous personage who always carries a rolled umbrella; none other than the Queen Mother. It's rather comforting really, to find those who are the world's great; who have breeding, poise and self confidence; who are accustomed to meeting people and plenty of them, should like something in their hands, even as you and I.

It struck me forcibly the other day that the philosophy of Grace Fields is something very fine, to be enunciated in the street. It certainly has must cheer many a downcast, dispirited soul with her lighthearted gaiety, which holds something deeper when you think

Victoria Boasts Castle For King and Queen

Carey Castle will be home to King George and Queen Elizabeth when they reach Victoria, B.C. The castle is official residence of the lieutenant-governor. The King will be a freeman of Canada's western-most city. In the harbor United States gunboats and cruisers will be massed in honor of the royal visitors, who will be reaching there at the end of May.

DON'T LET US HAVE ANYTHING LIKE KELOWNA'S

PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—

"Don't let us have anything like Kelowna's." Such was the comment of members of the Penticton Municipal Council here last week, when an improved system of street lighting along a part of Main Street was under review.

Just what type of lighting will be used will rest with the decision of the merchants along the route involved. The council has laid down no strictures in this respect, except one—and that is that the Kelowna system along Bernard Avenue should not be tolerated.

Penticton merchants, whose places of business are on Main Street, between Nanaimo and Padmore Streets, are to have the say as to whether or not those two blocks are to be given a modern street-lighting system there. Decision of the Penticton council, at its meeting last week, was to obtain the opinion of these merchants.

If such a system were put in, it would cost each business lot in the affected area approximately 50 cents per month for 10 years.

Municipal representatives will personally contact the property owners and business men within the next few days and have already discussed the matter with the telephone company, whose wires would be affected by the change.

It is likely that the system would be in a combination of mercury vapor and incandescent lamps.

In order to put in such a plan it will be necessary for the council to obtain the approval of at least two-thirds of the number of merchants valuation.

FAMED STAGE COMEDY NOW SHOWN ON SCREEN

With Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane as its stars, "Brother Rat," an uproarious comedy, comes to the Capitol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21. This is the Warner Bros. picture of the famed stage comedy that took Broadway by storm and ran for two years there with three road-show companies touring the country.

It's a play about college life, yes—but it isn't that sort of college play where the lads and the co-eds team up and break into choruses and dances every so often, generally without any excuse whatever. As a matter of fact, "Brother Rat" is laid in and about the Virginia Military Institute, which is by no means educational, and the photoplay has not one song or a tap-step in it.

about it. Listen to this:

"I knew that some day it was bound to be, My lucky star has been faithful to me!"

Also:

"I'm looking on the bright side, Though I'm walking in the shade."

We all know what it is to be walking in the shade, but if we think that the sun is shining on the opposite side of the street, it helps a lot; for it will shine on our side, by and by!

Your affectionate, Cousin Rosemary.

Falkland Preparing New Sports Ground

Men Volunteer Services To Complete Work By Empire Day Date

FALKLAND, B.C., March 13.—At the committee meeting of the Falkland and District Community Association Tuesday evening volunteers were called for to start work again on the recreation grounds, which it is hoped will be completed for the Empire Day celebrations. Several men offered their services and many other people were present Monday to assist in any way possible. It is hoped that permission will be granted by government engineers to detour a road which now passes through one end of the property, which cuts off considerable acreage.

It is expected this matter will be cleared up within the next few days. The majority of the committee were in favor of having a dining hall built on the grounds. The lady members of the society in charge of refreshments in the past have not been able to accommodate the crowds the day of the celebration.

Members present were not in favor of holding the annual banquet this year which marks the anniversary of completion of the hall. It was felt it entailed too much extra work for the supper committee, but it was left to these members to decide, after finding the wish of the community.

Mrs. G. Taylor, who is in charge, now reports that the banquet will be held as the majority of the residents are very much in favor of this annual celebration, which will take place on Saturday.

Those arranging the program include Mrs. G. Smythe and Mrs. J. Alexander. There were 18 members present at the meeting at which Homer Churchill, president, officiated.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. G. Smythe Friday afternoon with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. M. Phillips, was in the chair. Plans were made for a social evening, to be held on April 1, to raise funds for the society. The secretary, Mrs. J. Dene, was invited to send for remnant materials, which will also be offered for sale. Because of many cases of illness in the district during the past few weeks, funds in the flower fund treasury are low as reported by Mrs. E. Gotobed, secretary, who has had many bouquets delivered to the patients. It was decided to hold a whist drive in the near future in aid of this fund, the date to be set later. To conclude the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. Ferguson.

Plans for roads and weather conditions, the plan for the Community Hall Saturday evening was well attended. Roy Enderby's orchestra provided the musical entertainment.

The first car load of gypsum to be shipped this season left for Calgary Saturday. Because of the late spring, conditions are not of the best, so it is expected that the employees will not be at work for some time yet.

The Bridge Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hambrook Wednesday evening. Highest scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren. John Alexander, well known local poultry breeder, is in touch with government officials and hopes to be able to organize a junior poultry club as several youngsters in the district are keenly interested in the project.

Several car loads of hockey enthusiasts attended the games held at Vernon last week.

Spring had another set back over the week end when there was another heavy snowfall. Although days are mild, the countryside still has the very distinct appearance of winter.

The ranch owned by W. Warren has been leased to Wint, Hambrook, of the Westwood district, who has brought a fine herd of Jersey cattle with him. A new residence has been built on the place for Mr. Hambrook as Mr. and Mrs. Warren are remaining in their own home.

Mrs. F. Luffton returned home Friday after a week's visit with Mrs. John Bailey, of Westwood.

Mrs. T. Atken and family, of Glenora, were visiting in the district Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. McDougal is a patient in the Royal Inland Hospital at Kamloops.

SALMON VALLEY NEWS

SALMON VALLEY, B.C., March 13.—Miss Ruby Montgomery, of Vancouver, visited her sister, Mrs. Harry Scott, of Salmon Bench, last Tuesday.

H. G. Wyatt, of Armstrong, was visiting friends at Heywood's Corner last week.

Stanley Butchart, of Hendon, who has been away on the prairies for some time, returned to his home last Wednesday.

Miss C. E. Gamble, of Armstrong, came out last Thursday and is at present staying with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Freeze, during her father's illness.

Miss Dorothy Pritchard spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. G. A. Waite.

J. Kneller, of Glenora, accompanied Rev. J. W. Rowland on a trip to Silver Creek on Sunday.

At the March meeting of the Coldstream Women's Institute it was decided to hold their annual bazaar in the late fall instead of spring. Mrs. Holman and Mrs. Quirk were put in charge of the sewing and meetings will commence in April.

At the conclusion of the business meeting H. H. Evans gave a talk on general gardening which was much enjoyed by the large number of ladies present. Mr. Evans gave the proper treatment of seeds in indoor boxes, going through each stage to their care when finally put in the garden. He also discussed fertilization of the soil to some extent, emphasizing the necessity of this for successful gardening.

In talking of annual flowers, Mr. Evans advised planting such flowers as will bloom over a long period as being more satisfactory than those which last but a few days.

Several questions on various subjects were put to Mr. Evans, the replies to which gave the listeners much useful information.

Mrs. Alderman proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker which was heartily endorsed by all present.

FIRE LIMITS ALTERED

KELOWNA, B.C., March 10.—The council on Monday night gave the third reading to a bylaw which amends the fire limits and building regulation bylaw which has been in force for some time. When the zoning bylaw was passed last year, the zone as outlined did not conform with the fire limits as outlined in the previous bylaw. The new fire limits bylaw brings the two bylaws into conformity. First, second and third class fire limits have all been altered.

PENTICTON IS ACTIVE

PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—There is considerable activity in building in Penticton at the present time. Permits have been issued for several business buildings, in amounts running to four figures. Grand total for the year to date is $18,308.

WESTBANK RESIDENTS WANT POUND BY-LAW IN AREA ABOLISHED

WESTBANK, B.C., March 13.—Westbank was formed into a pound district last year as a result of a petition which was signed by a majority of the residents. Now there is a move to have this pound law abolished, stock-owners having found that the existence of this law works a hardship on them. A petition, which is being circulated at the present time, asking for the repeal of the pound-law, is being signed by many of those who signed the first petition last year. It would seem that it might be possible to make this law effective during a part of the year, and some favor this idea, and others feel that in a distinctly rural community stock ought to be allowed to run at large.

Several members of the Westbank Chamber of Commerce, including the president, A. R. Hoskins, the vice-president, William Ingram, J. W. Hannam, Dave Gellatly, and A. Dussik, attended the dinner and meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Valley, held at the Royal Anne Hotel at Kelowna, on Thursday evening, March 9.

A recent bride of this district, Mrs. H. Cripps, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by her friends at the home of a former schoolfellow, Miss Frances Drought, on Tuesday evening, March 7, when about 40 guests brought gifts which were presented by the hostess, Mrs. Cripps, former Miss Clara Butt, is the first of the younger people who were born in Westbank, to become a bride, and many lovely and useful gifts, testified to the affection in which she is held by all. Quite a number of people who were unable to be present at the shower sent their gifts. Mrs. Rob Hewlett and Mrs. Matt Hicks, sisters of the hostess, also Miss Audrey Gellatly, Miss Betty Carre and Miss Mary Dobbin assisted in serving tea. Mrs. A. E. Drought gave several musical selections. The bride voiced her gratitude to her friends very suitably and thanked them all for their good wishes.

Members of the T.T.Q. Club were entertained at their regular meeting by Miss Doris Paynter at her home on Monday evening, March 6. The meeting decided to make a quilt to be given to the Gordon and Noel Club, which institution the club assists in some way each season.

A combined congregational meeting of Westbank and Peachland United Churches was held in Westbank on Monday, March 6, when the church decided to invite Rev. W. E. G. Dovey, of Coalmont, to take over this field on the retirement of Rev. J. D. Gilliam in June.

The Pro-Rec. class held a court-whist drive on Friday evening, March 10, which was attended by about 25 players. Mrs. W. Ingram was the winner of the ladies' first prize; Dick Rolke, the men's, and Miss Doris Paynter and Clifton Walker, of Glenora, won the consolation prizes.

D. M. Smith, of Beaverdell, formerly of Westbank, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith, of Westbank, for several days last week.

LAVINGTON PLANNING HALL FOR COMMUNITY

LAVINGTON, B.C., March 11.—A Parent-Teachers meeting was held in the Lavington School on Tuesday evening of last week for discussion of plans for a Community Hall to be built in the near future. Everyone seemed intensely interested, as it is a long felt want, especially with so many young people in the valley. Several years ago a series of concerts and dances were held, to raise funds for this same purpose, but the whole thing was allowed to drop. The site for the new hall is now being discussed and will most likely be on the main road near the Lavington station.

Mrs. Ruth East, who has been recuperating at the home of her parents, after an operation in Vernon Jubilee Hospital, is leaving shortly for Oyama.

Dick Dickenson, of Rossland, was a visitor recently with friends at the Kalamalka Mines.

Coyotes are again on the rampage in these parts and five have been seen above the store. A party of skiers who were on the hills back of the Lavington range last week, came upon a deer, presumably killed by coyotes.

At the close of the hockey season a meeting was held by the Lavington Club and a presentation made to Miss Phyllis Smith for her kind assistance to the club, in printing tickets for the dance and also for the rock raffle, etc.

More than 3,800 of the 4,020 churches in Canada that were destroyed or damaged in the World War have been rebuilt.

OVALTINE TONIC FOOD BEVERAGE

A Royal Ceremony—1860

When Her Gracious Majesty, the late Queen Victoria, in her foresight and wisdom decided to send her eldest son, H.R.H. Albert Edward to Canada, an important consideration was the laying of a foundation for a permanent capital for Canada.

Accordingly on Sept. 1, 1860, the young prince travelled to Ottawa by river steamer and there was met by 120 canoes each manned by 8 or 10 men "all costumed in red shirts". Midst speech making, music and ceremony the first Prince of Wales to visit Canada most ably performed his duty and the corner stone of the House of Parliament, to become world famous for its graceful design, was declared "well and truly laid".

Thirteen years before this historic occasion the Canada Life had issued its first policy. Over the past 92 years it has developed into a great co-operative enterprise. Today hundreds of thousands of policyholders entrust to it savings of over $265,000,000.

And most of her time is spent on the slopes of "Hill 70," one of eastern Canada's most popular runs.

Bralorne Wins 6-3 To Oust Trail In Coy Cup Final

Scoring Rampage In Middle Period Spells Downfall For Kootenay Squad

A second period scoring rampage that netted four goals won the Coy Cup for those "give no quarter, ask no quarter" Bralorne Goldiggers over the popular Trail All Stars here last Friday night. Final score was 6-3.

Big Slim Anderson and elusive "Pills" Purcello were the forwards that did the damage, knocking such a hole in Trail's hopes that the rink management was able to announce with confidence that the trophy would be presented immediately after conclusion of the game.

Bralorne went through the third and what was to prove final game to repeat their victory of the preceding Wednesday, when they won 2-1. The 2-all draw result of the marathon 90-minute overtime session on Monday, March 6, was easily the highlight of the rough but color-splashed series.

Art O'Keefe and Boyd Clarke combined on Bralorne's opening two goals. O'Keefe backhanded one past Sopko on Clarke's pass, then seconds later this manoeuvre was reversed.

Walter Petrosky, who covered himself with a handsome share of the evening's honors, scored the first of his three counters for Trail just before the bell went to end the period.

Purcello almost succeeded in obtaining another score on a solo dash, but was tripped by Chuck Casey, who served a penalty. The free shot awarded as a result was taken by Ernie Cormier, who apparently really did not try to get the puck past Sopko.

Casey's visit to the box was the signal for a migration in that direction. Roy Forsey, hard working left wing, and Purcello tangled and were joined by Bob Salmond. This left four men from each team on the ice.

Art Moffat, who did not receive a single penalty, crashed into the goal post and brought down—not a Trail player—but his own Gordon Craiglen. Both left the ice for a minute. Moffat hands it out freely. He also showed he can take it gamely.

Though almost hopelessly outscored in the second, Trail kept up the pace in the last frame, going their hardest past the Goldiggers. Play was rugged for the most part, and Walter Petrosky obtained the only goal.

winners of the Kootenay playoffs, visited Summerland and played two matches, total points to count. Friday night, the Summerland boys were successful, winning by 26-22. Saturday night both teams travelled at full speed; checking was very close. At the half-way mark each team had scored only four points.

The second half produced a point, and the game ended, Rossland 23, Summerland 22. Thus Summerland won the round by the small margin of two points; and merit the right to proceed further in the provincial playoffs with Coast teams.

It was not only for the Seniors that basketball was uppermost, for the girls' and boys' High School basketball teams of Princeton, Hedy, Keremeos, Oliver, Princeton, Kelowna, and Summerland held a tournament in Summerland gym on Saturday, with Summerland girls in the lead. In the boys' games Princeton finished with the best score.

Over 7,000 At 3-Game Series

Over 7,000 paid admission to see the three-game series for the Coy Cup between Bralorne and Trail.

At the first fixture, on the night of March 6, the gate receipts showed 1,650.

This marathon struggle with its three overtime periods certainly proved an excellent drawing card for the balance of the series.

At the second game, on Wednesday night, there were 2,650 in the arena. And the final contest, on Friday night, had an attendance of 2,789.

ATTEND HOCKEY SERIES

EWING'S LANDING, B.C., March 10.—The hockey finals, played in Vernon, drew a number of enthusiastic fans from the west side, who made up parties of friends to attend the games.

Mrs. Bernard Wood was the guest of her mother, Mrs. E. C. Wood, for a few days at the beginning of last week.

Miss Sheila Leckie-Ewing stayed in Vernon with her sister for the latter portion of the week of the hockey finals, when she attended the series.

Kelowna Likes Its Hockey

Hundreds Crowd Special Trains for Hockey Games In Vernon's Ice Arena

TOTAL OF 321 BOUGHT TICKETS FOR TRIP TO FINAL FIXTURE BETWEEN BRALORNE AND TRAIL

Yes, Kelowna's taking its hockey seriously. A reporter of The Vernon News who spent last Friday in that centre, found that the hectic Coy Cup series between Bralorne and Trail, being general conversation as he had found it at home.

This interest appeared to hit its climax at this same reporter returned to Vernon by the special train which pulled out of the Kelowna station with no less than 321 ardent fans bound for the game that night, and with "Joe" Spurrer as "guest conductor" for the occasion.

C.N.R. officials were able to explain that the figure of Kelowna attendance was steadily advancing. The first tilt in the Bralorne-Trail series on the previous Monday night attracted 127 by the special train. On Wednesday night the total had been half as big again with 189 aboard. And by Friday night the figure had very nearly doubled again.

"This by no means represented the full attendance from Kelowna. A popular diversion among those in the train on Friday night, for example, was to seek the road across the lakes en route, counting headlights of pointed nose. Many men had found it at home."

The reporter had even to Kelowna to attend a first place to attend a session of the special committee on central selling plans for the fruit industry. He found that even the representative of the district as far away as Creston had taken the opportunity of going up from Kelowna to see one of the Vernon games. And the chief subject of discussion, when it came to a point of settling the date for the next session of the committee, was the next Vernon hockey final which would be played.

Back in the Royal Anne Hotel, after the conclusion of the session that afternoon, the reporter in one of the rooms couldn't help overhearing a conversation that was proceeding by telephone from another room on the other side of the wall.

"Sorry! I can't make that appointment." This came in the typical accents of a travelling salesman. "I'm going up to Vernon tonight to see those hockey game they seem to be having up there. Most of my clients too."

Then it was in one of the restaurants, at the ready service counter for a quick cup of tea. Four other men were at the counter too. They had apparently decided to go to the game. A fifth came in. When he was questioned he said he didn't think he'd bother to go to Vernon. He talked for a few minutes more. Then he changed his mind. He was on the train when it pulled out.

Out on the street, directly outside the restaurant, a delivery boy was carrying some groceries to a car for an elderly lady.

"You're not going all the way up there tonight?" laughed the lady. The boy grinned in reply. "Haven't missed one of the final games," he said proudly. "Why don't you come along?"

At this point Bob Lowe, of The Penticton Herald, decided he'd walk down to the train, too, to see the crowd off. "Never heard no many people just passing you on the street talking about one thing at one time,—and particularly when it's not in their own town," he observed.

The street leading to the station was well filled with cars and pedestrians. They were all headed for the special train north. A boy rushed out of a pecking house, just at the closing time, whistled clips around a trouser leg and jumped on his bicycle. "Forgot my overcoat," he shrieked, "hold that train!"

When the train came in the crowd took possession in a fairly good imitation of a mad rush-hour subway scramble in New York. Seats were gone within a minute or two.

Your reporter had asked for a one-way ticket, then changed his mind when he found the special hockey trip return was actually thirty cents cheaper.

For a moment the man behind the wicket had appeared a bit nervous. He relaxed into a grin when informed that Vernon was "home town" for the buyer.

"Gosh! I was scared some of you hockey fans were actually starting to go up there for good."

"We'll Be Back Next Year" - Parting Shot From Trail All Stars

Kootenay Team Had To Find Practices At 5 A.M. And 11 P.M. In Home Town

Though Trail's All Stars lost out in the finals of the Coy Cup hockey series here last week, the boys from the Kootenay section certainly won a highly deserved popularity with the crowds.

But the presentation of the cup to the Goldiggers on Friday night, Bralorne of course got a big hand from the packed stands as the winners of the trophy for the second successive year and on the same sheet of ice.

But the hours of applause, that rent the big auditorium, when Vice-President E. H. Martin, of the B.C.A.H.A. mentioned the "splendid competition" that had been offered by the losers, abundantly showed the high place that the All Stars had won for themselves here.

"We'll be back next year—you can count on that," shouted Oscar Robinson, of Trail, to a representative of The Vernon News, as the team members were leaving for Trail again last Saturday.

"In or lose, we'll be back," he promised. "Vernon's certainly been good to us. We'll never forget the way we were supported here and we'll be boosters for you from now on."

As one of the cars sped down Seventh Street its horn was clamped down. It was like a wedding party.

The fact that the All Stars never gave up and kept trying until the last whistle of the last fixture was what made their flying orange sweaters the signal for so much approval from the yelling fans.

But what is not so well known is that these boys have no easy time of it in their home city, where the Seniors and Juniors tend to be the big crowd winners, and the Intermediates, sandwiched in between, have hard pickings.

Before they left for this city from Trail for their semi-finals, the practice which had to be as early as 5 o'clock in the morning, while another came on at 11 o'clock at night.

Yet Mike Welykoehy, hard-working player, manager, and captain of the Trail squad, did not complain in the slightest as he was interviewed by The Vernon News in his room in the National Hotel on the morning after the final game.

"Well, the best team won, I guess you'd say," he smiled. "But we tried with everything we had and we're sorry we lost. Vernon was good to us, so good we'll never forget it. The fact is, I thought of putting a letter in the paper or something thanking everybody. We almost felt we were playing for Vernon the way so many yelled for us all the time."

The captain expressed regret that Marcus Smith had been forced out of the series because of his leg injury. "That just about made the difference," that turned the tables against us."

In the first game, he recalled, "we really had them licked and shouldn't have lost. That was when we had Smith with us. But that night we were beaten."

"I guess we were beaten all right," Mike merely shrugged his shoulders about the middle fixture. Then he pounded one fist into an enthusiastic hand and grinned. "But what we regret now is that we're just getting going, getting into shape."

The team had been able to finance itself, though none too handily. At home they had played against other local squads, also against Okanagan University of Spokane, Nelson, and some of the boundary district places.

"We weren't good enough for the Seniors," Mike explained. "We're too old for the Juniors. But we like hockey, and wanted to play. I suppose that's why we put our heart in it so much."

Other players echoed the same sentiments.

OKANAGAN-DONATED CURLING TROPHIES WON AT REVELSTOKE

REVELSTOKE, B.C., March 14.—Two of the four major competitions of the Revelstoke Curling Club this season have been trophies which originated in the Okanagan.—The Ross competition was concluded last week and was won by a rink skippered by W. K. Wickens, manager of the Imperial Bank. Other members of the Wickens rink are, R. C. Hume, H. J. Bews, Dr. T. W. Sutherland.

Play for the Okanagan cup is proceeding this week and with the best ice conditions in many years the club expects to finish this competition within the next week.

The Burns competition was won by Alderman Burridge's rink consisting of himself as skip, C. P. McSorley, Frank Swartz, and Delbert Hooley. The handsome Fred Bews cup was won by Farmer Dean, Harley Dean, Donald McGregor, and Kenny McRae. The McCall rink, skippered by a former Vernonite, was the runner-up.

WHEE! DO! FEEL FIT!

Thousands find new aid in keeping fit—through a simple change of food habits!

That tired feeling, that harassing weariness, is often due to incomplete elimination—caused by lack of bulk in the diet. Usually the sufferer doesn't know this fact. Or, knowing the benefits of bran, he has failed to try it in this delicious form.

For thousands now get the bulk they need in a delightfully palatable way. Every morning they eat Kellogg's Bran Flakes to keep fit. Gently laxative in a pleasant way, Kellogg's also contains other parts of wheat to supply health-giving proteins. Just try eating these delicious, crispy toasted-bran flakes every morning. You'll find it's the gentle, sure way to help avoid irregularity.

Look for the famous signature—Kellogg's Bran Flakes with other parts of wheat. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Wake Up! Spring is in the Air!

IF YOU'RE the patient sort, you can wait for Spring. And then you can take your car out and pursue the Lacy—and get mud in your eye and a cold in your neck.

But, if you'll angle yourself into the seat of a Nash, you can have your Spring right here—and now.

Only... it's a super-de-luxe kind of Spring the other fellow will never know about. Spring without a bit of shiver in the air. Spring without sicknesses, without blowing dust, or drafts, or steaming windows. Spring—as you've always hoped it would be.

And it all appears when you twist the Nash Weather Bye's dial!

Only by looking outside do you realize it's not quite Spring yet—for you're breathing warm May air, the kind you find on sunny meadows.

It's blowing a gale out there—but your Nash steers no heavier than a wisp of cigarette smoke. And thanks to a special kind of sound-proofing, you can almost feel the quiet.

And the road is rough... for the car ahead is pitching and tossing—but you skim along like an ice-boat!

Want to pass him? Just nudge that throttle... and watch him dwindle into a dot in your rear-vision mirror.

Never in your life have you felt such space-eating power! (It's a new kind of engine made only by Nash.)

Maybe it's the Spring air you're breathing... maybe it's the ease of the steering post shift... or the utter smoothness of the Fourth Speed Forward... or the fact that Nash is built for the gypsy-life, with a bed in it... but suddenly you see ahead of you, blue skies and fleecy clouds... trust streams white with foam... a sun-drenched beach down south... you're saying "good-bye" to winter. From now on, it will always be fair weather for you, in your Nash!

Sure—there are volumes of proof that Nash is the car to buy this year. But one guy took from the car itself... and once around the town... tell more than a million words!

Don't worry about price—ten models are priced next to the lowest. So come down—try it—get a load of Spring today!

A RAISE IN PAY

OVERLAND
Green's Garage
VERNON, B. C.

WHY BUY A USED CAR?
The Overland costs no more than a good used car, BUT the Overland is a new car, real, and gives a definite raise in pay which is like a raise in pay that is usable to help meet time payments. We welcome giving a proof and a demonstration.

Edmonton Wins

ceeding period was the fact that not a single penalty was handed out by Referee Art Townsend, former prairie pro, and now an Alberta Amateur Hockey Association official, who was in complete command of the situation from the opening whistle.

Two of the four penalties awarded in the last period proved costly indeed for Bralorne. Goldiggers' Bob Salmond was banned and Bob Graham took advantage to obtain his second goal. Then, just before the final gong with Art Moffat gazing from the sidelines Horn scored Capitals' fourth counter.

Tommy McDowell was again one of the keenest Bralorne workers, but failed to click at the goal. Moffat took a hard plunge to the ice in the second period when he acted as the ham between Tom Brant's and Harold Wismer's old sandwich play. But the Bralorne guard stayed in the fray—and, believe it or not, was given a great hand from the crowd. Unpopular for his play in the earlier games here, his stock now seems to be going up.

SUMMARY
1st period: Bralorne, Purcell from Moffat 2:30. Edmonton, Yanew from Horn from Bob Graham.

No penalties.
2nd period: Edmonton, Bob Graham 19:57.

No penalties.
3rd period: Edmonton, Bob Graham 4:23. Edmonton, Horn from Bob Graham 18:43.

Penalties: Salmond, Wismer, Clarke, Moffat.

Referees: Art Townsend, Edmonton; Art Gagne, Kamloops.

TEAMS
Bralorne: Craigen, Moffat, Skuratof, Cormier, Clarke, Goodrich, McDowell, Salmond, Joss, O'Keefe, Purcell.

Edmonton: Mottershead, Lammie, Brant, Wismer, Calvert, Walker, Yanew, Lemieux, Bob Graham, Jim Graham, Horn.

NO POWER PLAYS

"No, we don't believe in power plays. We play the same style whether the other team is short or not, and believe that in the long run we get our fair share of the breaks. Remember, too, that a power play can be very dangerous for the team trying it."

Manager Bill Phillips, of Edmonton's Capitals, made this comment to The Vernon News following his team's victory over Bralorne Tuesday night. He has been asked why the Capitals did not use this system that has proved so popular with every other club seen in action here this winter and spring.

In seven playoff games Edmonton scored 33 goals compared with 13 against them. Phillips said: "Since the middle of February the team has been without the services of its regular goalie, Lorne Harney, who left to report to the Seattle Rainiers club for spring training. But the substitute goalie, Ted Mottershead, has been nicked for only a little better than one goal a game."

Two of the players, Jim Graham, who coaches the team, and John Lammie, are former Edmonton Superiors stars and during the 1935-1936 season toured Europe. Another, Harold Wismer, is a graduate of the Edmonton A.C. Junior aggregation.

The Capitals, Mr. Phillips said, have been more fortunate than most prairie intermediate teams in that they performed in a regular league all season and drew fair crowds and support. In fact their hardest play-off date was with the University of Alberta team in the loop finals. Their final series with Glenora Gunners proved far easier for the Alberta honors.

The Capitals are sponsored by the Galters Packing Co., the organization that for many years backed the famous Edmonton Superiors.

GOOD SHOWING MADE IN FATTENING STEERS

Cost farmers made a good showing in fattening yearling steers by stall feeding methods. This is shown by a summary of costs released this week by Professor H. M. King, head of the faculty of animal husbandry, University of British Columbia.

Three shipments of cattle, all raised in the Williams Lake district, were used in an experiment conducted at the University, and at the farms of John Bathgate, Chilliwack, and Reeve Alex O. Hope, Langley, to determine whether Fraser Valley farmers could participate in large scale fattening of "feeder" cattle designed to provide the Vancouver market with a continuous supply of "baby" beef.

Tabulations show the University group were fed at a cost of $14.38 per 100 pounds gain in weight. Bathgate's and Hope's costs were $9.65 and $13.70 respectively. University costs kept accurate check with regard to weights and all feed was purchased from Vancouver firms.

Sick Flier Made Three Records

Blood streaming from his nose and too exhausted to stand, Alex Henshaw, 24-year-old British aviator, landed at Gravesend, England, last month, with three air records and more than 31 hours knocked off the mark for a round-trip flight between England and Cape Town. The aviator was reported stricken by malaria. He completed the round trip in four days, 10 hours, 43 minutes, thus beating the record made in November, 1937, by Flying Officer A. E. Clouston and Mrs. Betty Kirby-Green by one day, seven hours, 13 minutes.

Kelowna Man Named To Head Exhibition At Annual Meeting

T. Wadsworth Elected To Succeed Late F. B. Cossitt To Post

ARMSTRONG, B. C., March 14.—The annual meeting of the Interior Provincial Exhibition Association, which was held in the City Hall, Armstrong, on Thursday, March 9, was well attended, with members from beyond Kelowna in the south to Salmon Arm in the north present. H. M. Walker, first vice-president, occupied the chair and after the minutes of the previous annual meeting had been read, gave the annual presidential report.

Mr. Walker, in paying tribute to the late F. B. Cossitt, said: "It is with deep regret that I am filling the office of president here this afternoon owing to the passing of our late esteemed president, F. B. Cossitt and I would ask you to stand for a moment in silence in honor of his memory."

After paying this tribute Mr. Walker gave the following report: "You have a copy of the audited statement in your hands which again shows a balance in hand on the year's operations which must in a large measure have been due to an increase in prize money over that paid the previous year, as well as a reduction in income from gate receipts and some other sources. However, conditions were such during the past year that we were fortunate in having done so well as we did. We are again indebted to the Dominion and provincial governments for the regular as well as special grants towards our improvements which were a great undertaking and have won favorable comment from the public generally. Your secretary-manager will read you the audited statement in connection with the building program and it is to be hoped that further special support will be forthcoming this year and that the note secured by a number of the directors may be retired. In the meantime I would say that due care should be exercised in regard to increased expenditures until our building account gets cleared up."

The report was adopted as also was the building account report, read by M. Hasson.

After the reports had been disposed of the chairman asked that there be a full and free discussion of all matters pertaining to the exhibition and it was up to the members to present problems as they saw them before the meeting.

Following the chairman's remarks there was a very free and friendly discussion, none of the matters brought up being in any way critical of the past, but were all tending towards increasing the usefulness of the exhibition.

During the discussion the management was congratulated on their achievement in having had the improvements on the grounds and buildings carried out so successfully in the short time available for the work.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and when Mr. Walker's name was put up for the office of president his health would not permit of his taking the responsibility at this time and he nominated T. Wadsworth of Kelowna for the office. This was seconded and on being put to the meeting was carried unanimously. Mr. Wadsworth was secretary of the Kelowna Fair up to the time that it ceased to operate and the interests of that organization were amalgamated with the Interior Provincial Exhibition Association.

B. A. Thornton, of Armstrong, was elected first vice-president; G. Whitehead, of Vernon, second vice-president; and F. H. Wilmut, of Penticton, third vice-president. Most of the retiring directors were re-elected with some changes in the personnel of committee chairmen.

The manager, Mat Hansen, reported that the prospects for the next exhibition which will be held from September 11 to 14 were very bright and that contracts had been signed for a midway and arrangements had also been made already for part of the grand stand attractions in addition to light horse events and horse races.

False Alarm

alarm, but that it was not definitely proved.

McKinnon took the witness stand during the trial of Howard Portman. He was granted protection of the Canada Evidence Act and then admitted that he pulled the alarm at box 8 on the corner of Seventh and Langille Streets. He declared that his companion was not near him at the time and that his action was entirely his responsibility. He admitted he was drunk. In his own defence Portman denied taking any part in sounding the alarm.

Fire Chief Ben Dickinson, who swore out the information, was the first witness called by Corp. R. S. Nelson, in charge of the prosecution.

On Thursday, March 9, at 12:20 a.m. he was in a room in the National Hotel, he said, and with him were Portman and McKinnon, volunteer members of the Kamloops Brigade and others.

A fire alarm was sounded and he went to the Fire Hall and drove No. 3 truck to box 15 at Pleasant Valley Road and Pine Street. The alarm was false and he returned to the station.

Shortly after his return another alarm was rung in from Seventh and Langille. It was also false.

On his return for the second time he saw McKinnon at the station with members of the Vernon Brigade. "McKinnon in my presence said that he pulled the alarm," Chief Dickinson said, "he said it two or three times."

Alexander "Ben" Baillie, Douglas Hickman, and Jack Hunt, all volunteer firemen with the local brigade, told of finding Portman and McKinnon near Seventh and Tronson when they answered the second alarm. Both tried to run away.

Provincial Constable E. D. Anderson stated that Fire Chief Dickinson did not want to press charges against the men. He also said that McKinnon approached him and asked that if he admitted to setting the alarm, would the officer free Portman? He was told no.

MAY ALTER ROAD AT OKANAGAN MISSION

OKANAGAN MISSION, B. C., March 15.—Considerable interest has been aroused by a suggested alteration of the road which runs from the Okanagan Mission school to the lakeshore. The proposal is to relocate the road on the north side of the school, diverging from the main road immediately south of Seawall creek bridge and running straight through to the old tobacco curing shed. The double curve by the Mission store would thus be eliminated. For the scheme it is claimed that it would lessen the traffic danger by the school and the double curve would provide much needed employment, and would not adversely affect the property concerned. Quite a number of taxpayers seem to feel, however, that the proposal merits a thorough open discussion, especially as it affects the school grounds, before being put into effect.

The present road was surfaced and oil treated last year, but would presumably be fenced off and coaxed back into cultivation. It is understood that the road engineer is to be consulted on the project this week.

DILWORTH TO SPEAK

The Women's Canadian Club of this city is to hear Ira Dilworth, of Vancouver, regional representative of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, next Tuesday afternoon here, when he will speak on "Some Problems of Radio in Canada." In the evening he is to speak at Kelowna.

Victoria Girl Owns and Operates Miniature Railway

Beverly Armstrong figures she is one of the luckiest girls in this dominion. The 15-year-old Victoria Miss has a father who is interested in scale models. He built her this passenger-carrying steam railway, whose track runs 400 feet through the neighbors' backyards and back again. The locomotive and tender weigh half a ton. It can develop 20 much speed that Beverly doesn't dare let it go full steam on her limited track. Ten persons can be accommodated on the three cars it pulls with ease.

is due H. J. Thornton, who coached the team to its present championship form.

A Hurst, of Revelstoke, proved an efficient referee for the tournament.

FROM THE SIDELINES
Particularly noted at the hoop meet in Kamloops was the tremendous spirit and enthusiasm of home supporters. The Kamloops Athletic Association building was jammed with 700 youngsters on Saturday afternoon, and a cheer section of 200 displayed deafening approval of Kamloops wins and leads. Running through the whole tournament was a fine spirit of sportsmanship showed by all the various teams and rosters.

The girls' trophy was won by the fast-stepping Kamloops quintette, who defeated Vernon High 16-5 in the final encounter. Vernon girls, however, showed fine form throughout the afternoon, with only the one defeat, Vernon team: H. Davies, B. McCluskey, L. Sparrow, M. Mutler, E. Nelson, E. Price, F. Portman, E. Blackburn, P. Campbell, and T. Sparrow.

A banquet followed the tournament in the K.A.A. building, and was attended by 225 players, teachers, and rosters. Cups were presented to the captains of the winning teams. A very enjoyable dance held in the evening was attended by nearly 600 young people.

CITY LEAGUE
The Pro-Roc, entry in the City League for the Rotary Cup appears to be the strongest at the present time. They defeated the High School 31-24 in their first game, and the Ex-High 23-10. But this is no indication that they will come out on top yet, and fans are assured of more exciting competition. In the other game played so far, the Ex-High defeated the Scouts 24-16.

SUMMERLAND MAN WAS VICTIM OF A HOLDUP

SUMMERLAND, B.C., March 15.—Conflicting reports are received here of an unpleasant experience J. Fyfe had in a visit to Seattle. He went to that city a couple of weeks ago and, according to rumors here, met with trouble.

He was on the street one day when a thug hit him on the head, went through his pockets and obtained $3 before a crowd gathered and the assailant slipped off. Mr. Fyfe was sent to the hospital, unconscious, and "came to" 48 hours later.

COQUINHALLA WILL BE RE-OPENED WHEN SNOW CONDITIONS PERMIT

W. M. Neal, C.P.R. Vice-President, Discusses Road
With Pentiction Board

PENTITION, B.C., March 15.—
"We plan to re-open the Coquinhalla just as soon as weather conditions permit," W. M. Neal, of Winnipeg, C.P.R. vice-president for western lines, told the executive of the Pentiction Board of Trade at the Inco-Hotel Monday morning. "It is not the railroad's policy permanently to close the Coquinhalla," he said. "I cannot understand what has given rise to all these rumors lately. Our policy in regard to the pass has not been changed."

"Our records show that over since we took over the line in 1916, the Coquinhalla has been closed each year for varying periods, depending upon physical conditions, when it became beyond the limits of prudence, if not of human ability, to operate successfully," said the speaker, who was introduced by Arthur Bachman, president of the board and chairman of the meeting.

"The show must go on, just the same in the railroad business as in the show business," commented Mr.
Neal. "We must keep in mind the safety of the people and properly maintain the line. We must be able to maintain our services. Personally, I have felt, on occasion, that the C.P.R. staff stayed in the Coquinhalla too late in the season. It is more difficult to operate in the Coquinhalla under winter conditions than in any other section of the mountain division, because of the steep slopes, heavy snowfall and general conditions which tend to promote slides."

It said the many forest fires in the pass region have had an important bearing on the snow action.
Where a mountain slide has been denied of trees, it will not hold the snow.

MUSIC FESTIVAL TO INCLUDE CLASSES ON PHOTOGRAPHY AND ART

PENTITION, B.C., March 15.—
E. O. Gaube, president of the Pentiction branch of the Okanagan Festival Association, gave some interesting highlights on festivals and on music in addressing Rotarians here Monday.

Mr. Gaube, old of the tremendous amount of detail work that had gone into the preparation for the Okanagan festival, which is to be held here on April 24, 25, and 26.

He then told of the difficulties encountered in obtaining the services of Sir Ernest MacMillan, who will adjudicate music at the forthcoming festival. In doing this he attributed Pentiction's success in getting Sir Ernest to the work of Mrs. H. Cleland, secretary of the Pentiction association. Mention also was made of the other adjudicators, Prof. Robert Jarman, of Winnipeg, who will take care of the dancing and elocution, and John Kyle, A.R.
O.A., who will adjudicate art and photography.

The art had been added to the festival by the Pentiction body in 1938. This year a further addition had been made, in the inclusion of photography. Incidentally, said Mr.
Gaube, this is the only festival in the province to include art.

Town and District

Mrs. Howard Jeal, of Pentiction, has been a visitor to this city, the guest of her mother, Mrs. B. Steward.

D. J. Sullivan, of The Vernon News staff, left for Vancouver on Wednesday night on a short business trip.

David Grierson, of Vancouver, managing director of the West Canadian Hydro Electric Corp. Ltd., is this week a business visitor to Vernon.

Mrs. Peter Banks has arrived here from San Francisco to visit with her mother, Mrs. James Crawshaw. Mrs.
Banks plans to be in Vernon for some two months.

Desmond O'Brien, of the staff of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, left on Saturday last by motor to spend a three weeks' holiday at the world's fair at San Francisco.

H. E. Waby, district agriculturist of Salmon Arm, addressed the Junior Faculty Club, recently formed at the Senior High School, on Wednesday. His remarks proved highly interesting and instructive.

A. W. Thom, of this city, Interior representative of Burns & Co.
Ltd., was taken sick last week while on a business visit at Oliver. He is now recovering at his home here and his duties were taken over temporarily by W. Cunningham, of the Calgary, Alta., staff of Burns & Co.

Residents of this city will be interested to learn that Otis Reinhard, who is attending the University of Alberta at Edmonton, is manager of the university's Senior men's basketball team and recently concluded a lengthy trip with the squad to Saskatoon, Winnipeg, and Brandon.

Mrs. E. Palmer Fraser is leaving Thursday for Alhambra, California, where she will visit with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Sanderson.
Mrs. Fraser plans to be away about two months, and will be a visitor at the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco, before returning again to Vernon.

Funeral services for Wesley Best, who died in Trail hospital Wednesday last week, were held from the Vernon United Church on Monday afternoon, with Rev. Dr. J. J.
Davies officiating. Mr. Best, the 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Best, of this city, was employed by Safeway Stores in Rossland and Trail after leaving Vernon. The remains were forwarded to this city.

A. E. Toombs of this city reports that increased interest in the Okanagan Valley is being shown by people of means in the Old Country.
He has had several recent enquiries about various types of property, and it is hoped that there will be many new arrivals before long. One recent enquiry was directly due to the "Marching Onward" edition of the Vernon News in October of 1937, which is thus shown to be still doing effective work.

After receipt of the sad news that her step-mother, Mrs. J. W. Johnston, had passed away in Vancouver, Mrs. W. Hayward left for the west city on Saturday last. Mrs.
Johnston's husband, the Rev. J. W.
Johnston, who was well known in this city to many, especially older residents, died at Vancouver some five weeks ago. Besides Mrs. Hayward, another daughter, Mrs. E. M. Reinhard, resides here, and a third Mrs. A. H. Spence, of Saskatoon, Sask., who lived in Vernon a number of years ago. Clayton H. Johnston, now of Ottawa, Ontario, is a son.

Members of the Vernon Little Theatre will gather in the Scout Hall on Thursday night of next week, March 23, for the presentation of three short "work-shop" plays.
Attendance at these plays is limited to members and the plays are designed primarily to enable a larger number of Little Theatre members to take part in productions. A public presentation by the Little Theatre is tentatively planned for the middle of next May, but no choice of a full length play has as yet been made. Total membership now is 107.

An invitation from the superintendent of the Vancouver schools to send four students from the Vernon High School to the Coast city during the visit of the King and Queen last May has been received here.
The Board of School Trustees has granted permission for such a trip, and service clubs in the city will be approached for donations to finance the journey. The present plan is to have two scholars from the school, and two from the Senior High attend. The delegates would be billeted in Vancouver students' homes and attend classes and special functions arranged during their Majesties' visit.

One of the highlights of last season's activities in the Olvie Arena was the concluding skating carnival, both from the contestants and from the spectators' viewpoints, and it is planned to enlarge on this year's event, which will be staged on Thursday evening of next week.
A feature of the forthcoming carnival will be a 20-minute program of fancy skating by members of the Recreation Centre Skating Club who are already practising in anticipation. In addition there will be prizes for the best fancy costumes, announced Arena Superintendent A.
B. Lockhart.

Vivian T. N. Pellett, of Armstrong, points out that an article appearing in a recent issue of "The Vernon News" to the effect that an Oliver man is believed to be the only President of the City of London, England, is incorrect. Mr. Pellett also has the distinction of being a Freeman of the world's most noted city, and had the honour conferred on him twice. He obtained his first freedom from Sir John Moore on December 12, 1908, and recalls signing the register on the next page to Lord Kitchener's name. The famous soldier, Mr. Pellett points out, was a member of the "Kilnburn" club.
Mr. Pellett's first freedom was granted him almost completely allured by the fact that the next was presented by the Court of Common Council of London on December 20,

This regard was ever arrived at.
In dealing with the possibility of higher rates for interior business men, should the line be run permanently via Merritt, Mr. Neal said that any changes would have to come before the transportation commission and would be fully discussed by all persons affected.

Mrs. W. S. Strachan, accompanied by her two children, left on Saturday for Winnipeg. They will be away for about two months.

Capt. G. Barry, Inspector of Indian Schools, of Vancouver, was a visitor in this district on Tuesday, in the course of a tour of the valley.

S. T. G. Roberts, a travelling publisher for the Watch Tower Bible & Tract Society, of Toronto, is at present a visitor in this city and district.

After several weeks spent on holiday in California and at the San Francisco World's Fair, D. J. "Dell" Robison returned to this city on Monday.

Mrs. David McNair, of this city, left on Monday night for Winnipeg.
She was called to the Manitoba capital by the sudden serious illness of her mother.

A 22-year-old Vernon youth, Bernard Wolgin, was fined $4 by Magistrate William Morley in city police court Tuesday morning after conviction on a charge of breaking a

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ponton, well known residents of this city, are now living in Falkland. Mr. Ponton has been employed for some time by W. McCounie & Co., at Falkland and was joined there by Mrs. Pon-

Game Warden Charles Still was a visitor to Kamloops last week attending a conference of game wardens from "C" division. The object of the gathering was to coordinate work of the wardens and emphasis was laid on propagation of sport fish.

Of interest to his many friends here was the announcement last week that Judge J. D. Swanson, of Kamloops, was re-nominated as a candidate for election to the Senate of the University of British Columbia. His Honor has been a member of the Senate for the past 18 years.

Interior employees and officials of the Union Oil Co. of British Columbia gathered here Saturday for a one-day conference. A. P. Bennett, of Vancouver, company sales manager, and Mort Palge, of Kam-loops, district representative, were in attendance.

J. McCann arrived last week from Vancouver to assume the post of accountant at the Vernon branch of the Bank of Montreal. Mrs. Mc-Cann will come here shortly to join her husband. Mr. McCann succeeds T. W. Morris, who left recently to join the staff of a Vancouver branch of the Bank. Mrs.
Morris and her two children left on Saturday night for the Coast city.

Several officials of the B.C. Game Commission and of the Forest Service were in Vernon and Lumby during the early part of this week.
They were James Cunningham, of the Game Board; R. M. Robertson, of Kamloops, inspector "C" division game department; C. H. Robinson, of Nelson, fisheries inspector; and A. E. Parlow, of Kamloops, district forester.

President P. S. Sterling, of the Country Club, announced this week that the annual meeting of that organization will be held on Tuesday evening next in the Board of Trade room. The financial statement as presented by the treasurer, J. R.
Kiddston, shows that last year the club made a net profit of $225, of which 50 per cent is payable to the Long Lake Co. Ltd.

The Edmonton Capitals hockey team arrived here on Tuesday noon via C.P.R., having come from Calgary the preceding day. With the team, which is sponsored by an Edmonton meat packing firm, were W.
Phillips, manager, H. Dyer, club secretary - treasurer, Ed. Pellant, trainer, and Jack Phillips, property boy. James Graham, veteran forward with the team, was formerly one of Alberta's best Senior hockey players. In private life he is a salesman for the team-sponsoring packing company.

Major F. T. Foort, who at one time served with the Sussex Regiment in Gibraltar, Malta, Aden, India, and Burma, as well as other sections of the world, is to be a special speaker in this city on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock, in the Burns Hall. His address, "Round the Empire," will be under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation, and will be illustrated by lantern slides. Before coming to Vernon he is listed to speak at Kamloops, Salmon Arm, and Armstrong, and from here he will proceed to Kelowna and Summerland.

Tenders must be submitted by noon on Monday, April 3.

This new wing will be constructed on the north side of the present Junior High building and will extend to 64 feet north and 100 feet deep on the west. A separate entrance will be included along the north frontage so that the unit so far as necessary can be kept separate from the remainder of the school, which will continue as the Junior High section.

Wolves Make Air History

For the first time in Canadian aviation history, wolves were carried as paying passengers when Trainer LaFlamme brought his team from Gogama to Sudbury on the first lap of an exhibition tour which will take him to Montreal, Boston and New York. "Wolves are the most contrary creatures on earth," observed Joe LaFlamme, here grasping one of his

"What Is Beauty?"-- Baffling Question Analyzed By Larson

"The real artists of today, after all, may be the engineers."
This was one of many stimulating comments made by Professor Thor-leif Larson, of the University of British Columbia, who discussed the question, "What Is Beauty?" at a meeting held in the High School library on Tuesday evening under auspices of the local U.B.C. Alumni Association.

Before a good-sized audience, Professor Larson characterized his remarks as "an excursion into the theory of art."
"Who can tell me who built the beautiful Golden Gate bridge at San Francisco?" he asked at one point.
There was no answer. The names of engineers in general are rarely known, the lecturer continued. They are "impersonal and anonymous."
Yet perhaps these men fulfill the true function of the artist more aptly than do the "eccentrics" who are admired only by coteries and cliques of highbrows and aesthetes.

Professor Larson emphasized this point as he pointed out that "the artist is no longer at home in the community. He is excluded, to a large extent and in many cases, from life."
This has been art's undoing, he suggested. Since the renaissance art has tended to be divorced from daily life. "The artist has been exalted to a maker of things to go into museums. His work has nothing to do with life. The artist has become abnormal and eccentric. The artists' activities have become more and more extraordinary as they have become more and more peculiar. Art, so-called, has turned upon itself to rend its own substance."

TENDERS CALLED FOR SCHOOL EXTENSION

$33,000 Addition To Kelowna
High School Will Be Made By Trustees

KELOWNA, B.C., March 15.—Kelowna School Board is calling this week for tenders for the construction of a new addition to the present Junior High School building on Richter street, the approximate cost of which is estimated between $33,- 000 and $34,000. A by-law was submitted to the ratepayers last December 15, calling for an expenditure of $45,000 on a general school addition and renovation program.
If the successful tender on the school addition is not more than $34,000, then the school board will be able to proceed with its present plans for renovations of the elementary and high school buildings and purchasing of additional equipment. If the addition cannot be erected for $34,000 then a revision of plans will be necessary.

Tenders must be submitted by noon on Monday, April 3.

In the new unit there are six classrooms, two downstairs and four on the second floor. Also on the second floor there will be a large science laboratory and students' activity room. The entire unit has room space equivalent to 12 ordinary classrooms.

The science laboratory will contain a fume cabinet, dark room, four sinks, a large demonstration table, and tables fitted with Bockgas for experiments. On the ground floor of the old building a room now used for ordinary classes is to be turned into a sewing room. This is opposite the present home economics room and will provide a much needed extra service for these classes.

With these additions it is expected that the Kelowna High School will be properly equipped to reach the standard laid down by the Provincial government Department of Education for accredited high schools.

EACH MAN HOLDS HIS FUTURE IN HIS OWN GOOD HANDS

"If you could read the future" suggests an advertisement showing a man holding a magic crystal in his hands and also that you would weave a different pattern in your life if you could see ahead. But you can weave a different pattern without knowing whether ahead of you stretches a long lease of years. Must you know that you are going to live to be seventy-five before you can see the necessity or the advisability of making financial provision for old age?

What does anybody want money for? It cannot be eaten. It will not, of itself, bring happiness. It will not ensure good health. Its possession may not make for that feeling of security so greatly desired. Mostly it works the other way. In a scramble to win it, men lose both happiness and health, and the fear of losing it wrinkles many brows and turns hair prematurely grey.

And yet every man needs money. It is power. With it there are mighty potentialities for good or evil and so long as our present economic system rules the world, every man should put forth worthy efforts to gain possession of sufficient money so that the good things of life which money will buy can be had. These are education, travel, worthy living, and the measure of security which possession of money sometimes brings.

GROWERS DEMAND CONTROL OF FRUIT TILL IT IS SOLD

CONTROL of the marketing of the Okanagan crop until it is sold is desired by the men who grow fruit. For years and years they have given their fruit to others to pack, store, and sell for them and they have meekly accepted as payment any sum that was left after all other charges have been met in full.

Under this system the men who grew the crop got poorer and poorer, and the handlers of the crop and the packers prospered. Between them was a great gulch fixed. As the growers have become poorer they have been reduced to accepting advances from the handlers of the crop so that often when the money was paid there has been little if anything for the producers, though all the others received theirs in full measure.

Packers and shippers gradually took over orchards from those whose returns proved insufficient to meet expenses, until today nearly all of them are both owners of orchards and packers, shippers and storers of other people's fruit. Or, if they are not storers, they are claiming a prior right to go on the market because the fruit entrusted to them is threatened by spoilage. The thrifty ones find their provision of cold storage used as a weapon against them when the time comes for shipment of fruits.

Contemplation of inequalities led the growers to a decision that the way out, offering equal opportunity for all and advantage for none, is in what has come to be known as "central selling," the sale of all the crop as if there were but one owner.

The task of bringing into force such a method of sale, at the last annual meeting of fruit growers was entrusted to a committee to be named by A. K. Loyd, president of the fruit growers' association. And this committee has been on the job for some weeks.

When first they faced up to the task, the committee was informed of legal obstacles, of an indefinite situation, of a border line of uncertainty as to whether the power to do as they wished lay with the Province or the Dominion. Legal tangles of several sorts stood in the way. The best advice seemed to be that there are almost as many opinions on the vexed questions as there are lawyers. No wonder the committee men hesitated. Shippers, hearing of the uncertainty, let it be known that while they might consent to carry on, if the growers took over the sale of the crop on the domestic market, which is said to have given a headache to many shippers, they would battle in the courts to retain the sales of apples on the export market.

The growers committee do not know the extent of the powers invested in them by the laws of the Province of British Columbia. They do not know whether these laws will stand the strain of a test in the courts. They do know they are the laws of the land and unless and until they are challenged and upset, see no reason for doubt that they are valid and enforceable, and they are planning to obey instructions given them by the growers and are prepared to sell the apples in the prescribed manner.

If the shippers do not like the decision by the growers' committee they have their recourse in the courts. They can challenge the law by entering an action and can carry it from one court to another until the Privy Council gives a final decision. A costly proceeding with the result always in doubt.

The weakness of the whole situation lies in the fact that in order to take over the sale of the crop the growers must disrupt the present selling arrangements and should the courts, in the middle of the season, give an adverse judgment on the points in law, they might find themselves with a crop already to move and no organizations through which to sell it. Transition from one system to another is always difficult and at all times accompanied by a hazard. This would be true whether the changes sought are made this year or next. The position they are in is intolerable, and to get out of it they must take some risks. The growers must know this and knowing it have given instructions which the committee is carrying out.

For some reason there appears to be general acceptance of some forms of legislation and general doubt as to the wisdom of other forms. All laws are compulsive. There is a law against murder. There is a law against being on the wrong side of the street. At one time in

Have You Forgotten?

Last night in the wind, in the wild rain,
I heard the sound of laughter,
And the sound of deep, soft singing.
I said, "This cannot be—
That in such tempest, in such stormy torrent
One may hear merriment
And the sound of music."

I looked out to the bitter darkness
Through a window
Flooded with silver that was like a stream
Of wet moonlight,
Still, I heard soft, deep singing
And bright laughter.

I said, "I am a little mad, distraught—
The winter has been long and solitary;
And long loneliness Breeds in the mind perverse imaginings."

I flung the window wide, and the swift rains
Beat on my pallid face;
With rough dear fingerings they plucked my hair—
Someone was there!
Then I cried out into the rainy night,
"Who is it? Who is coming?"

Laughter and singing in my very ear,
My very heart,
And the quick answer,
"Have you forgotten Spring?"

—BARBARA YOUNG

the history of mankind killing was the accepted way for the settlement of disputes. There was a time when driving on the left hand side of the street was the legal means of travel. Laws have changed this. When first introduced these restrictive measures were not liked. No doubt they were resisted but they have come to be accepted just as will laws which will restrain marketing agencies from practices which are detrimental to the majority of producers.

The fruit growers in British Columbia find it necessary to consign their fruit in order to market it. They are determined that so long as payment is not made to retain control of it. It is their fruit even if other agencies have added costs and they are entitled to retain the final say in regard to it until possession and title through payment, passes to someone else. No one will quarrel with this purpose though those who find their profits jeopardized may seek to thwart it. This is the pith and substance of the movement for "central selling."

GARDINER'S POLICY DESCRIBED AS HUGE POLITICAL AUCTION

MANY of us thought, it can't happen here, but according to Bruce Hutchinson writing in the Vancouver Sun, it has happened here. He says that the Honorable J. G. Gardiner's plan for new wheat legislation is the New Deal washing over the international boundary line into Canada.

To quote Hutchinson, "it means, in fact, that the state is going to undertake to supervise and rationalize our largest Canadian industry, our entire agriculture." He predicts it will spread to the fishing, lumbering, mining, livestock, and fruit industries and, like F. A. Lewis, of Vernon, sees it coming into operation through the pools.

To quote from the article "Huge Political Auction Sale to Win Support of Prairie Farmers: It cannot stop marketing. If the government is going to guarantee a price and the taxpayers are going to pay the difference between it and the world price, then the state will have to control farm output in the end. It cannot afford to encourage a vast increase in output so long as every bushel of wheat, every box of apples, every beef steer is costing it money."

"The inevitable result is crop control, planting regulations, quotas of output—the kind of things we have already started in a small way in British Columbia."

As Mr. Hutchinson sees it: "When the world price fell below the cost of production the state could do one of two things—it could reduce the cost of production by lowering the tariff, or it could bonus the farmer to stay in business."

The conclusion he comes to is: "We are going into Planning, along the general lines of the New Deal so far as agriculture is concerned, in a big way. We have already gone a long distance in public works and other New Deal remedies. Whether we like it or not, the basic trend in Canada is towards Roosevelt."

Speechifying

Now the bulging browed psychologist is getting some place. He has observed the human mind, its complexes and inhibitions, and he has surveyed us like a county surveyor laying out the boundaries of a farm. At last the professor is getting practical. He has discovered that the listening time of the average human being is 45 minutes. This means that the human mind will absorb information only for that length of time. Then it wanders away and begins to watch the shadow of some fellow's nose on the wall, or to notice the curl on top of some woman's head and wonder how she keeps it there without adding glue to her hair tonic.

At the end of thirty minutes, the frivolous mind begins to wander. From that time on to the end of the three-quarters of an hour, one listener after another drops by the wayside and begins to think of trivial things until, at the end of forty-five minutes, nobody is listening except the man doing the talking, and he is listening only because the sweetest music in the world is the sound of his own voice to the man doing the talking.—Roe Fulkerson, in "The Kiwanis Magazine."

GERMAN HUMOR

Humor has not quite disappeared in Germany although comedians are being banished from the stage and air for making political jokes. Under the policy of Ersatz (substitute) materials which are being developed to take the place of imported goods, suits of clothes are now being made of wood fabric instead of wool. Here is a fake bill circulated for such a suit: "Suit material chopped down, 5 marks; branches trimmed off, 10 marks; jacket sawed and nailed, 30 marks; pockets chiseled out, 10 marks; lapels sawed on and hinged, 25 marks; buttonholes bored, 10 marks; reforestation, 10 percent extra. If suit sprouts in Spring please cut off shoots and keep them for patches."—Victoria Colonist.

The Vernon Public Library opened the doors of its new quarters in the City Hall, where rooms have been considerably enlarged.

TEN YEARS AGO The library now owns more than 1,000 books.—Vernon has a Retail Merchants Association, organized last week. The president is D. A. McBride, vice-president W. G. Drew, and executive, W. H. Grant, S. Grimason, and A. E. Hayhurst. Starting the season of 1928, $180 in debt, building a new court at a cost of $130, and concluding the season with $13 in the bank. These were the achievements of the Vernon Tennis Club. Officers were president, Richard Curtis, and secretary-treasurer, Steve H. Temple. A pleasing feature of a Fish & Game meeting here last week was presentation to Secretary E. W. Frowse of a signed ring in token of his efficient services. Seventy-five cock pheasants will be distributed in this district next week.—Further efforts will be made to induce young men of Vernon to take up rowing as a summer pastime.—F. E. French, of Vernon, was named president of North Okanagan Fair.

The Vernon Fruit Union's business statement showed that the total number of packages of fruit handled in 1918 was 80,000. TWENTY YEARS AGO in excess of former shipments, March 20, 1919. Shipments of vegetables increased by 600,000 pounds.—The Vernon Board of Trade has again been active in pressing the government for improved road service in the Interior. J. Vallance voiced the general feeling of a recent meeting when he said that the board should "hammer away" until the almost impossible stretch of road between Vernon and Larkin should be in better shape.—Capt. L. F. Burrows, of the Soldier Settlement Board, is actively engaged in arranging for settlement of soldiers in the district. Standing room was at a premium on Monday night when the Vimy Ridge Chapter, I.O.O.F., presented a program of entertainment in the Empress.—Sixteen more guards at the Internment Camp demobilized this week left on Tuesday for the Coast. They were conscripted men and have been replaced by an equal number of volunteers.

The City Council on Monday night voted to grant the Board of Trade $500 towards the expense of preparing fruit exhibits this year, and that $200 be paid Thursday, March 18, 1939 forthwith and the balance in August. Alderman Costerton was the proposer of this resolution.—The minister of public works plans to visit Vernon shortly to enquire into the matter of construction of a new court house, so Price Ellison, M.P.P., wrote the Board of Trade this week. Mr. Ellison is endeavoring to have a land registry office located in Vernon. Last year 922 land registrations were made at Kamloops from the Okanagan district.—An erroneous impression has been created that it is proposed to start a kindergarten in connection with the public schools. The only foundation for such a report is the fact that Miss Bell, who has had special kindergarten training in Ottawa, has been supplied with a portion of the necessary equipment and will take up this work with her regular primary grade.—Neil & Cryderman are erecting a large addition to their livery stable.

One dealer remarked the other day that the only place where wheels were not on sale was the public hospital.—Hugh Cameron, of Camp McKinnay, has sold two claims for $20,000 each.

Culture on the Payroll

Contrary to the impression among many scholars, culture in this world is absolutely dependent upon economic prosperity. It was no accident that the Periclean Age came at a time when ancient Greece was very prosperous and had established a thousand trading posts in all parts of the civilized world. When her commercial prosperity died out, the culture of Greece was at an end, too.

The great Augustan period of Roman literature flowered when the Roman Empire enjoyed its peak of commercial prosperity and collapsed when the economic system collapsed. The same was true with the Italian Renaissance, that golden period of art and culture. When material riches of business failed to sustain it, the creative power of culture was at an end. After all, artists must eat and must have leisure time to do their work.

At every age in history it was the material wealth of industry that stimulated and supported cultural pursuits. As a result, culture today is most widespread in those lands where industry is most productive. This continent has been fortunate in this respect, due to our highly efficient business system with its mass production and modern advertising.

We have had years of unparalleled productivity. With only a small percentage of the world's population, we have produced one-half of all the wealth on this globe. That is why, in these same years, we have been able to build more schools and colleges than all the rest of the world combined. Culture in America is a thing for the masses. Over 30,000,000 students are registered in our educational institutions in Canada and the United States.

Among the greatest media for disseminating culture in this country are newspapers, magazines, and radio, in all of which we lead the world. The combined circulation of the 13,000 periodicals and newspapers included in the Census is over 300,000,000—nearly ten for every family. There are hundreds of broadcasting stations and 80 percent of all families own radios.

These great instruments of education and culture in our country are supported chiefly by revenue from advertising. The amount readers pay for most newspapers and magazines represents only a portion of their actual cost. Thus the very finest in literature, art, and music is provided for the people.

Advertising does much more for culture besides supporting the bulk of our printed publications and radio broadcasts. Our entire economic prosperity is linked up with advertising, which is an indispensable part of the important process of large-scale selling without which our modern industries could not operate and could not support present-day cultural activities. Advertising helps to bring down the cost of the things necessary for a civilized existence and popularizes culture itself.

In many ways, advertising subsidizes education for the masses and stimulates people with the necessary desire to attain a higher level of culture.

John Frank's House Makes Recommendation

Works project and training camps to provide work with wages for two hundred thousand men are recommended as the only immediate solution for unemployment in a statement issued by the John Frank's House Association of Toronto.

Composed of one hundred unemployed men in residence at John Frank's House, the members are all transients who come from and have travelled through all parts of the Dominion. Their plan is based to meet conditions which they themselves have experienced.

Cautioning, however, that such camps must be small, if they are to be reliable and make self-reliant citizens of the workers, the Association warns against the formation of large camps, such as are urged in the Canadian Corps plan, predicting that large camps would become dangerous breeding places for discontent and that the regimentation, necessary for discipline, would cause serious trouble.

The Association advocates two types of camps—a combined work and training scheme, for men under 25, and a straight work camp for older men. The plan specifies wages of a dollar per day for the younger workers and for receiving training and 35 cents per hour for the older workers. It suggests a means for training skilled craftsmen and recommends a general housecleaning of government employment bureaus.

Living here in B.C., far from the unique phenomenon of Toronto politics, I have been somewhat mystified by George McCullagh's so-called Leadership Campaign. I have had a lot of letters from the East asking me what I think about it. My answer has been that I do not know what to think. Obviously there is either very little, or nothing at all, behind it, or a great deal more than appears on the surface.

As I write I have devoted me a page from the Globe and Mail before me to the League of Democracy. It carries four coupons. Two are to be addressed to the Federal Member of Parliament. Two are application blanks to join the Leadership League. The so-called ballots to the member require no stamps. Those to the League require a one cent stamp each. After several weeks of intensive campaigning, 125,000 of these application blanks have been received. I am surprised that the total is not much larger. For all that the coupon asks the federal member to do is to "forget party advantage and co-operate for the common good." And for a one cent stamp applicants can join a body which states its purpose as restoring democracy and putting Canadians back to work. There is not a single sentence on the entire page to suggest how any of these objects may be attained. And I am absolutely sure that Sir Edward Beatty, Tim Buck, Agnes MacPhail, and Macdonnell King could all sign that statement of "democracy" and be absolutely sincere about it. The difficulty would come when they began to define ways and means of achieving the objectives.

It is like asking a group of people whether they believe in Christian principles. The vast majority will answer yes, and be astounded that the question even needed to be asked. But if you ask them whether the last war was in accord with Christian principles, or whether men should have the right to organize unions in gold mines, or whether there should be conscription of money rather than men in the next war there are a hundred different ideas as to what Christian principles mean.

The test for George McCullagh's movement will come when it decides on some program, and sets about getting it into effect. We have had coalition governments in Canada which achieved things which never could have been achieved otherwise. The classic example was Confederation. If George Brown had been too small to join hands with Sir John Macdonald and the then existing party system this Dominion might never have been an entity, and North American history might have been very different from what it was. Similarly with conscription in the Great War. It could never have been put in effect had there not been assurance in advance that it would win support from both sides of Parliament.

But coalition for the mere sake of coalition is quite another thing. It is almost never open and above board. It is almost invariably undertaken when certain changes near the government have something to put over which they cannot put over in a straight forward manner. The supposed purpose of the National Government in Britain, for instance, was to save the pound sterling, and keep the gold standard inviolate. All of the best election posters in 1931 carried a colored picture of a noble young John Bull carrying a shield and an aeroplane and rescuing a symbolic figure labelled the gold standard. When the election was over about the first act of the new government was to abolish the gold standard, which has not been resurrected and probably never will be in this generation.

The real purpose of the coalition was to effect certain economies in the social services which could not be effected with a straight Labor ministry in office.

All of which makes me wonder exactly what is behind this Leadership League in Canada. If it deserves support, it certainly has an obligation to say what it wants to do and how it proposes to try and do it.

One aspect of George McCullagh's campaign which struck me as strange was the fact that all the ballots are addressed to the federal members and one to the provincial representatives right in the Globe and Mail's own ballistics. This is the more surprising in view of the fact that Messrs. Burns and Macdonnell have been so intimately associated in the past. Many people think that George McCullagh was the chief factor in electing Hepburn in the last provincial election. Yet the Hepburn government has been the lion in the path which has so far prevented the Rowell Commission from getting anywhere. Why then roars against Ottawa and not one whisper against Mitch?

I know of no institution on this continent which is doing more timely service for democracy than the so-called Town Meeting of the Air which is held every Thursday night. There is no commercial sponsor of this program, and it is broadcast as a public service by the National Broadcasting Company. The meetings are always in the form of debates, giving both sides of the question, or rather all sides, for there are usually more than two sides to any real modern problem of democracy.

Incidentally, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is slowly but steadily improving its services along these lines. The Sunday forum sessions on public questions are valuable. Of course the studio dialogue must always lack the spontaneity of the speeches made at an actual public meeting. The most lively part of the Town Meeting of the Air is the question and answer period when the private citizen in the audience gets his sayings. It is amusing to note how a set speech which goes over fine when the speaker is reading from a prepared manuscript is punctured beyond hope of repair by some blunt queries from the audience.

I hear from New Zealand that the broadcasting commission there makes a practice of broadcasting all of the important speeches made in parliament. One could say that the business of the country is speeded up. The listeners out in the back country write in as angry as hornets when some old fashioned party politician wastes the time of the House by ranting on simply to get something on his mind.

One of the things which always surprised and disgusts laymen when they visit Parliament for the first time is to see for them selves that many of the speeches are made when absolutely nobody is listening. Chamber pays the slightest bit of attention to the speaker. A few members sit around reading newspapers, writing letters or gossiping in stage whispers among themselves. The speaker does not even bother to raise his voice. He is simply speaking to official reporters who will record his speech in Hansard, large numbers of which he will send around to the constituents at home as proof that he is on the job at Ottawa.

On the other hand there are speeches made from time to time which are so important that the whole country should have a chance to hear them. Young Mr. Irem, the Quebec nationalist leader of the Conservatives, recently made one such speech. It was a statement of Quebec's probable reaction to the threat of war in Europe. Just no summary summarized in the press. Just no summary could be heard by the people at large just how Quebec people feel and why. Yet these things are of vital importance to Canada as a whole.

CONSTIPATION DRAGS YOU DOWN

Don't let common constipation rob you of life and vigor! When bowels don't work right, the trouble often lies in what you eat. You don't get "bulk". Such common foods as meat, bread, potatoes are consumed in the body. They fall to supply the bulky mass that helps a bowel movement. Crisp, crunchy ALL-BRAN helps in two ways: It contributes to the "bulk" you need; and it also is a rich source of Nature's intestinal tonic, Vitamin B. Eat ALL-BRAN every day, drink plenty of water, and see what a difference "regular" habits can make in your life.

"Feeder Cattle Experiment"

Students of the marketing and management, and breeds and judging classes at the University of British Columbia are shown in the top picture interested in the "feeder" cattle experiment conducted at the University, and at the farms of Reeve Alex C. Hope, Langley, B.C., and Councillor John Bathgate, Chilliwack. Farmers of the lower mainland may find a new source of revenue in raising "feeder" steers from the interior to provide a continuous supply of baby beef for the Vancouver market if this demonstration proves successful. Dr. K. C. MacDonald is shown in the lower picture, as he examined a shipment of the experimental "feeder" beef. Accompanying the B.C. Minister are, left, Dean F. M. Clement, head of the Faculty of Agriculture at the University of British Columbia, where part of the cattle were "finished"; and right, Arthur Rupert, of Safeway Stores Ltd., purchasers of the prize cattle.

ENDERBY AUXILIARY IS PLANNING BAZAAR

Various Committees Appointed To Assume Charge Of Activities

ENDERBY, B.C., March 13.—The members of the Hospital Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting on Monday afternoon in the City Hall. Arrangements were made for the hospital bazaar, which will be held early in May. Various committees were appointed to take charge of the activities: Mrs. H. Chomat, fancy work; Mrs. Henry Walker, tea table; Mrs. King-Baker, plant stall; Mrs. P. Reitan, fish pond; Mrs. L. Lantz and Mrs. Ted Peck, home cooking stall; Mrs. W. Freeman, "house house"; and Mrs. R. Haugen, rummage stall; and Mrs. P. Farmer, soliciting.

Following the afternoon sale, a dance will be held in the evening. George Hughes, who has been visiting with his father, T. Hughes, during the past few weeks, left on Tuesday evening for Yellowknife, North West Territories, where he has been employed during the past years. He is well known in Endersby, having spent a number of years here as a boy, and his many friends were glad to welcome him back. He will stop over near Edmonton on his return journey to pay a visit with his mother before returning further north. The latter part of his journey will be entirely by plane, that being the only means of transportation into Yellowknife. A McKenzie returned on Saturday from Vancouver, where he has been receiving a few days' medical examination.

GRINDROD NEWS NOTES

GRINDROD, B.C., March 13.—Brian and Michael Williams spent the week end in Kamloops. They were members of the Endersby High School basketball team that played at Kamloops Saturday.

Nell Golly is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. Golly, for a few weeks. B. Karpovich and Jim Harris-chuk spent the week end at their home here from Glacier.

M. Polson of Endersby, spent Thursday in Grindrod, the guest of Mrs. B. R. Olmke. Mrs. W. G. Peacock, Joyce and Frank Peacock, and Mary Pollock are spending several weeks at Vancouver and Nanaimo.

A large crowd of Grindrod people attended the concert and dance at Grindrod Bench on Friday night and report a most enjoyable time. Mabel Folkard, of Endersby, is spending some time as the guest of Blanche Tomkinson.

NEW YORK FILMED IN TECHNICOLOR IN NEW SELZNICK PICTURE

New York, with all of its maddening mid-day whirl, with its fiery blue-sky action, along the "gay white way" with its night clubs, giant buildings, crowded tenements, pent-houses—all the striking contrasts are now revealed to the world. David O. Selznick who made the amusement world applaud with his technical production of Hollywood "A Star Is Born" has turned his showmanship talents to the east and "Nothing Sacred", the comedy-satire of New York co-starring Carole Lombard and Fredric March at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, March 22 and 23, will glorify Manhattan and eastern resorts in Technicolor.

In color, for the first time, will be photographed the skyscrapers, the Empire State building, Radio City, from the air, looking down into the streets and across at the skyline, other shots will be made. "Nothing Sacred" is the first complete color film of New York and combines all the pictorial values of color plus a great story and brings to the screen a new romantic team in Carole Lombard and Fredric March. Walter Connolly, Charles Winninger and Maxie Rosenbloom are seen in important featured roles.

FAVOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

KELOWNA, B.C., March 13.—Members of the Rotary club voted enthusiastically last week for a resolution advocating that daylight saving be established in Kelowna this year. Only three of the forty-five members in attendance signified their disapproval. The Rotary club membership is a cross-section of the retail, packing, professional, business and agricultural life of the district.

AGED OYAMA WOMAN PASSES IN HOSPITAL

OYAMA, B.C., March 14.—The death occurred in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital last Thursday, of Mrs. M. J. Ashton, aged 83. Mrs. Ashton was born at Forest, Ontario, of English parents. She had been living for the past 12 years with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rea. The body was taken to Pincher Creek, Alberta, for burial in the family grave, the funeral service being held there. The surviving relatives are: Mrs. W. H. Rea, Mrs. E. Brown, Sunny Nook, Alberta; Mrs. M. Smith, Lethbridge, Alberta; Mrs. L. A. Colcough, Pincher Creek, Alberta; all daughters; also 14 grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

The monthly meeting of the Kalamalka Women's Institute was held at the Community Hall on Wednesday, March 8. An afternoon of cards and tea will be held on Wednesday, March 27, the proceeds to be in aid of the debt on the furnace. Mrs. J. Gave a short address on the "Keep Fit" movement, and six of the members of the class gave a demonstration of the work being done at the Thursday evening classes. They were: Mary Shaw-MacLaren, Beth Peters, Margaret Gieky, Rosemary Darville, Barbara Craig, with Miss Gleave leading. Mrs. Endersby, Mrs. Dugate, and Mrs. Taite acted as hostesses and served tea.

C.P.R. Grounds At Revelstoke Provide For 10,000 Spectators

Site Is Most Desirable With Regard To Royal Visit

The Canadian Pacific Railway station grounds at Revelstoke will accommodate 10,000 spectators during the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to that main line centre next May 28.

This is the assurance received by The Vernon News from Mayor Walter Hardman, of Revelstoke. The grounds have been carefully surveyed and, allowing four or five square feet per person, will enable 10,000 people to see their Majesties. Formal request for use of the grounds has been made to the C.P.R., and this will be readily granted, it is believed.

Mayor Hardman states that at the first opportunity Revelstoke authorities intend to marshal all the school children on the sloping grounds of the station banks as a "try out." It is expected that by reserving this bank for kiddies alone some 5,000 will be given an adequate view of the Royal train.

"... We have strenuously endeavored to obtain from the committee appointed in charge of the visit a definite assurance that the Royal party will be seen by the spectators," Mayor Hardman writes. "But to date that assurance has not been forthcoming. The secretary of the committee advises us that while the committee cannot give us that official assurance, he has no doubt they will leave the train. We, of course, feel sure they will, but at the time of writing we are still hammering away for this assurance as we have no desire to bring any visitors under false pretences; perhaps a little conservative, but we wish to be right before we launch our invitations."

Medals For Two After Double Rescue

Simon Yuen and his Newfoundland dog, Bruno, have B.P.O.A. medals now. They earned them by their rescue of a woman and a boy in Riviere des Prairies near Montreal. A schoolboy was carried away by the current, and the woman tried to save him. Simon rescued the boy and Bruno saved the woman.

MOCCASIN DANCE AT SALMON ARM ENJOYED

Evening Sponsored By Elks Lodge—Attendance Not Up To Standard

SALMON ARM, B.C., March 13.—The Salmon Arm Elks held a moccasin dance in the arena last Wednesday evening, March 8. Although the weather was perfect and the ice surface ideal for this kind of entertainment, the attendance was very small, and the "Brother Bills" consequently will have very little to add to their "sickness and distress" fund, for which the affair was held. This was the first dance of this type to be held here for some time and those who attended were unanimous in the hope that the Elks would make it one of their annual activities.

The Tavern Inn was the scene of a gay party last Tuesday night, when the proprietor, Tom Middleton, was host to the Junior hockey team and young lady friends. The evening was spent in playing various games and dancing. Refreshments prepared for the occasion by Mrs. W. Grant were served to the guests after which a hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Middleton and his staff for making this enjoyable evening possible.

Mrs. H. Greenwood returned Friday evening from Vancouver, where she has spent the winter months visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Loughheed arrived Saturday morning from Revelstoke. Mr. Loughheed returned home the same evening but Mrs. Loughheed will visit a week or so with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Campbell.

Mrs. W. Phillips left Saturday to spend a few days visiting in Vancouver.

Floyd Nelson left Tuesday morning for Birch Island in the North Thompson valley, where he will resume his duties in the Forest Service.

Don Campbell, of the Observer staff, spent the week end visiting in Vancouver.

Harry Greenwood was admitted to the local hospital Saturday evening and his many friends will be pleased to know his condition is greatly improved.

Harold Brooke spent the latter part of last week bulging and shipping five car loads of hay from Westwood to Vancouver Island and mainland points.

Mrs. Edith Hughes, who has been a patient in the local hospital, left Thursday night for Vancouver, and is now a patient in St. Paul's Hospital. She was accompanied on the journey by her daughter, Mrs. N. Miller.

George Shirley returned from Vancouver Friday night, where he attended the annual meeting of the B.C. Barbers' Association. Murray Page, of Vanderhoof, is spending a week visiting with his old school chum, Orville Preston.

Norman Miller left Sunday night to spend a week or two visiting in Vancouver.

Roy Leonard, was admitted to the hospital last Friday.

Ted Berch spent the week end visiting his mother, Mrs. M. Berch, and left Sunday night to resume his duties on the staff of the Bank of Montreal at Kamloops after following in Endersby for a short while.

CHARGES FOR SERVICE

PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—George D. Robertson, Skaha beach fruit rancher, appeared before the Penticton council Monday night and charged that his irrigation service charged at the best, only fifty percent efficient. He stated that through faulty service he had sustained large losses in trees and fruit.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 45), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worry about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.

Just get more fresh air, sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and dispels annoying jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life.

Pinkham's is WELL, WORTH trying.

The OTTAWA ListeningPost

(By the Reporter With A Notebook)

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen is as tough a fighter as ever he was in the years of his sojourn in the House of Commons. It may be a little hard to imagine the small dignified white-bearded figure of Senator Dandurand being bounced up against the wall and then thrown to the floor and jumped on. But that is exactly what Senator Meighen did to him this week.

Senator Dandurand committed the indiscretion of announcing perhaps too freely the Government's intention of doing everything it could to "bribe" a thorough inquiry into possible solutions of Canada's railway problem. They would not, Senator Dandurand said, pay one cent to provide an independent examination of figures on the saving to the country of unification or amalgamation schemes. That would, the Senator freely admitted, look as though the Liberals might have such schemes still up their sleeves, an unfortunate impression for any government to convey when it is about to call an election.

Senator Meighen in powerful resounding phrases told the leader of the Government in the senate what he thought of him for being a slave to party politics. Aside from withering Senator Dandurand in speech was a declaration of independence for the Senate chamber. Mr. Meighen is in the peculiar position of being leader of the Opposition in the Senate and being able to command a majority vote in that House. A Manion-Meighen team between them could exercise virtually a complete veto on Government legislation. But Mr. Meighen has told the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons quite plainly that he doesn't want to play with him.

First on Canada's defence policy and now on the railway question he has declared openly that he will not be a party to the political manoeuvring of the Conservatives.

His first move, it is understood will be to present a report from the railway committee of the senate recommending continuance of the discussion of the scheme and asking authorization to appoint independent experts to examine the figures. If he carries the senate in concurrence the motion necessitating the expenditure of public funds will go to the House of Commons.

Mr. Meighen intends to place the blame for blocking the railway solution where it belongs, with the politicians of the Lower House. If politics could be discarded, Mr. Meighen's move would get quite a few supporters in the House of Commons, members who will admit privately—very privately—that they would like to see something done to reduce Canada's railway deficits. One such supporter, it is believed, would be no less a person than Hon. C. A. Dunning, the Minister of Finance. Mr. Dunning has shown several times this session that his attitude on the C.N.R. was not entirely that of the Government.

Such a stand on the part of the Finance Minister would follow consistently his recent appeal for the large section of middle-class taxpayers of Canada who are forced to bear the real burden of excessive government expenditures.

Mr. Dunning's case against any extension of the old age pensions was as startling as it was reasonable and logical. If the age limit were reduced to 65, he pointed out, it would mean an immediate increase equal to nearly $2 per capita of Canadian population. In other words, election or no election, Mr. Dunning courageously discarded, as far as he was concerned, the shibboleth of paternalism when that paternalism meant an extra burden on the man who was endeavoring to help himself and build up his own security.

The Defence Purchasing Board bill has made its appearance and so far seems to fulfill the promises made for it. It takes munition orders over $5,000 so completely out of the hands of the Defence Minister and his department that there are some in Ottawa who are wondering just how it will fit into the rest of the government machinery. Until now the direct responsibility for defence contracts has lain with the Master General of the Ordnance, it is shown and efficient civil servant, but in the final analysis he has been under the thumb of the patronage system. For example, it is his duty to compile from time to time lists of manufacturers who can best meet department needs. In addition, however, he has always had what is quite openly admitted to be a "pork barrel" list recommended by party members. Where the system has fallen down, it is claimed, has been the frequent use of this "pork barrel" list as a preferred list when selected firms have been asked to quote. The system will be closed to abuse only if and when this "pork barrel" is eliminated once and for all.

J. A. Glen, the hard-hitting Western Liberal from Marquette, has constituted himself the champion of Parliament against the attack of C. George McCallagh and his Leadership League. Others in the House have shown their dislike for the Toronto Publisher's tactics, but their language has been tempered by the number of ballots from their constituents lying on their respective desks. We do not know whether Mr. Glen had received any ballots when he made his recent speech on the floor of the House. If so, it is an even greater tribute to his courage. His defence of the Government had done nothing. Mr. Glen gave a long list of what the Government had done, including some statistics to show the increase of 46 percent in trade with Britain and 62 percent in trade with other countries. In his attack on the publisher, "the boy wonder of Toronto," Mr. Glen gave expression to his personal feeling of intolerance for millionaire newspaper owners who "ingrantly transgress the best traditions of Journalism." True or not it was the most refreshingly virile approach to the leadership league that the House of Commons has heard.

Disaster Strikes Halifax

Thirty employees and 87 guests were in the Queen hotel when fire broke out early March 2. Twenty-five were officially recorded missing as firemen searched the smouldering shambles. Twenty persons were admitted to hospital with injuries received in escaping the flames which did $800,000 damage to the century-old hotel and surrounding buildings. It was Halifax's worst disaster since the explosion of 1917.

Prairies As Solid As "Rock Of Ages"

George Spence Tells Of Rehabilitation Work Before Audiences Here

The history of Canada's drought areas on the prairies, and a description of the method of attack against the problems involved, formed the framework for a highly interesting address given by George Spence, director of Prairie Farm Rehabilitation, when he spoke before the Canadian Club and Women's Canadian Club in this city on Thursday last week.

A man of rich experience in Saskatchewan farming and engineering, and parliamentary life both at Regina and Ottawa, the speaker proved a convincing lecturer whose graphic word-pictures of prairie activity were illustrated by a collection of excellent slides.

"In those prairies," he declared early in his address, "Canada has a great basic asset just as solid and substantial as the rock of ages, for it is based on human needs."

Supplying the wherewithal for the satisfaction of the hunger of much of the world is the function of this great extent of land. It fills a need that will not disappear. And it is admirably fitted to carry out this purpose.

The fact is, he stressed, "that all the land on the prairies is good for something." If it is not good for farm land it is splendid range property.

"The better land has 'tremendous soil fertility.' It grows a type of hard wheat without an equal throughout the world. Since 1910 eight billion bushels of No. 1 wheat have been cultivated. This represents a value of ten billion dollars. And in addition there are the cattle, sheep, swine, and all related industries.

"You can search in vain all over the world and not duplicate the accomplishments of this area."

It is a "food empire," this vast open plains section. Tens of millions of dollars are invested. More funds are "on tap." Hence there is every reason for an intelligent and thorough effort to rehabilitate such sections as have been adversely affected.

Before he described the work of the project with which he is identified, Mr. Spence laid emphasis on his statement that the prairies have not been dealt a crippling blow by recent drought spells.

"To hear some people talk, particularly in the east," he said, "you would think that the whole of the lands had been blown away. Well, there hasn't been enough wind all put together since Adam's time for that. The fact is that the prairies haven't been at all gravely injured. But there is abundant reason to do many things to improve the position of the man on the land. The result is a greatly enhanced return to our national wealth. We all benefit as a consequence."

Experts defined the drought area first 80 years ago. Capt. Fuller in a report of 1882 condemned much of the section as unfit for agriculture. This verdict was reversed by other studies.

In 1935 the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act was passed, requesting the appointment of committees to advise on proper policies to combat drought. The act has no specific definitions, hence it has few limitations. It is extremely elastic in operation. Leading agriculturists, business, and financial men, experts in engineering, and ranchers and dirt farmers to keep them all straight, have set to work to see what can be done. Science and research are teamed with practical men. "And not a dollar is being wasted in senseless, foolish experiment."

The speaker divided the work of the scheme into three main channels: culture, land utilization, and water conservation. He described each of these channels, and detailed what had been done.

There is really "gigantic co-operation." The three Canadian prairie provinces, Ottawa, and the United States to the south, are all involved, "for the grass-hoppers, for example, take no account of international boundaries and pay no customs."

WAR ON MOSQUITOES

KELOWNA, B.C., March 13.—The widest program for mosquito control adopted in many years will probably be effective in the Kelowna area this year, if present plans of the Kelowna city council are carried to completion. The situation was discussed by the city council on Monday night and tentative plans for co-operation with adjoining districts were made.

provision of water through systems of dams, dykes, ditches, and other works.

Just before his conclusion he told a number of fascinating stories about actual dwellers on the prairie lands. One of these made mention of a man, well advanced in years, living all alone with poor equipment, who had handled 7,000 cubic yards of dirt and built a dam. He has completely re-established himself. Others of his family are now back with him. It has been a triumphal recovery.

"And there are thousands more like that man—every one of them is worth helping, and every one of them can be a contributor to our national recovery."

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY SCALDED TO DEATH

PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—A tragic fate met Jack Burdick, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burdick, of Rock Creek, following an accident on Wednesday night, March 8. The youngster was fatally scalded, and although brought to Penticton hospital for treatment, was dead before reaching there.

Details of the occurrence were not disclosed, but it is reported the child fell, or sat down, into a tub of hot water, at some time on Wednesday evening. On the advice of Dr. Burnett, of Greenwood, who saw the child on Thursday afternoon, he was sent to the Kettle Valley train to Penticton.

However, death ensued before the child's arrival in Penticton. There was no possibility of recovery, it is stated, as the burns were greater than 50 percent, the shock being sufficient to bring the end within a few hours. The remains were taken back to Rock Creek for burial.

SMITH AGAIN HEADS OLIVER TRADE BOARD

OLIVER, B.C., March 11.—Perennial president of the Oliver Board of Trade, R. W. Smith was re-elected to that post at the board's annual meeting Wednesday, March 8. George A. Stuart was elected vice-president, and Rev. R. E. Cribb re-elected secretary-treasurer. The other members of the executive are J. D. Smith and Dr. N. J. Ball.

About 50 attended the board's annual meeting in the dining room of the Hotel Roedel at 6:30 p.m. The various annual reports submitted reviewed the board's activities during the year, and showed that a busy twelve months had just been concluded.

Dr. W. R. Walker, of Penticton, was the guest speaker for the evening. He spoke on the high cost of government in Canada, and gave a lot of facts and figures showing how government costs, municipal, provincial, and federal, had mounted tremendously during the last decade. Dr. Walker was not blaming any one government, but condemned the system as a whole, and expressed the opinion that reform should come from the people themselves.

Other visitors from Penticton were E. W. Mutch, who was president of the Penticton Board of Trade some 30 years ago and who was government land sales agent at Oliver in the early days of this project. Mr. Baskin, president of the Penticton Board of Trade, also addressed the meeting. He mentioned the possibilities of encouraging tourist traffic in the Okanagan Valley and urged all Boards of Trade to co-operate in advertising the beauties and places of interest in this valley.

Mr. Younger, C.P.R. superintendent, and Mr. Fisher, chief dispatcher, of Penticton, were also present at the meeting.

Over 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian certified seed potatoes from the 1938 crop were exported before December 1, 1938.

ESSENTIAL FACTS ABOUT SCIENTIFIC FERTILIZATION

Don't buy a fertilizer just because it is a fertilizer and expect it to give a maximum increase of better-grade crops; it may not be the correct fertilizer for your purpose.

Varying soils will require varying proportions of the best standard fertilizers to give the greatest amount of nourishment. This can best be determined by soil experts. When Elephant Brand Fertilizers are recommended you are certain to obtain superior chemicals which are imperative to profitable fertilizing programs. Another Elephant Brand product is Mono-Calcium Phosphate, a highly concentrated and purified mineral health food for all classes of live stock, especially recommended for dairy cows.

Peachland's Local Of Growers' Group Is Being Revived

F. B. Gummow Is Named New President—Loyd, Hayden
Give Addresses

PEACHLAND, B.C., March 14.—The B.C.F.G.A. Peachland local was revived and officers elected at a meeting held in the Legion Hall on Thursday evening, March 8, which was attended by President A. K. Loyd, Secretary C. A. Hayden, and Capt. D. M. Rattray, of Salmon Arm, and A. Millar, of Oliver. Mr. Loyd spoke of the recent convention at which Peachland had no representative, and asked why the local organization had lost interest. An interesting time was spent in question and answer following this query with tariff matters and other B.C.F.G.A. activities being explained by Mr. Loyd, Mr. Hayden, Captain Rattray and Mr. Millar. They all stressed the value of a local organization not only to aid the growers but to assist the B.C.F.G.A. in their activities.

A vote of thanks to Dr. Buchanan, who was not present, was passed in recognition of his services as president for many years. W. B. Sanderson gave the secretary's report after which officers were elected by acclamation as follows: president, F. B. Gummow; secretary-treasurer, W. B. Sanderson; executive, A. McKay, A. Ruffe, Ted Topham, and C. C. Heighway.

"Modern trends in education" were discussed at the Women's Institute meeting, which was arranged by Mrs. G. Dell, convenor of the education and better schools committee. The speakers were the four teachers, Miss L. Morsh and M. N. Barwick, of the public school, and Miss J. Shaw and E. H. Bowering, of the High School. Miss Morsh spoke of the present freedom of speech and action in contrast with the regulation of former days, while Mr. Barwick stressed the value of frequent tests instead of the old time yearly examination which had been largely eliminated. The importance of teaching the principles and ideals of democracy were emphasized in the light of attacks on democracy in this age.

Miss Shaw explained the new subject of guidance for High School pupils and how it prepared the pupil to take his place in the community and fit him for a vocation and Mr. Bowering traced the subject of general science as now taught through the grades.

The remarks of the teachers were heard with close attention by those present and a vote of thanks was given at the end of the meeting.

A message by Mrs. F. P. Burden, convenor of the peace and international relations committee for B.C., was read at the business meeting and arrangements made to procure a number of books on laws for women and children in B.C. as compiled by Judge Magill.

The date of the fall fair was changed to August 31.

TRINITY VALLEY NOTES

TRINITY VALLEY, B.C., March 11.—There was general rejoicing in the valley last Saturday night, when residents gathered for a whist drive and dance. This was the first party held for a long time, owing to bad roads and various epidemics of sickness. Everyone felt like making up for lost time. Some old time games created a lot of fun. The winners at whist were Miss Angelina Choquette and Harvey Worth and consolation winners Miss Betty Grant and F. Pow.

Mrs. Kenneth Worth and Katherine returned from Vernon to their home in Trinity Valley this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gano and children paid a visit to relatives in the Lavington district last week end. Alec McRae was a visitor to Vernon for a few days recently.

Some hauling of hay is being done among the farmers. Practically everyone has had to augment his crop this year, owing to the short hay crop of the past exceptionally dry summer. The heavy snow of this winter should provide more moisture for next season's crops.

CONCERT AT PENTICTON
PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—Some splendid musicianship, and an amazing virtuosity in so many performers of such an age, delighted two large gatherings of residents in the Scout Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday nights of last week, when the Penticton school band and the High School Girls Glee Club gave their spring concert. The performance was under direction of Harold Martin, director of music for the Penticton High School.

Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. T. Redstone. First prizes were won by Mrs. G. Watt and T. Redstone with consolation prizes going to Mrs. E. H. Trimble and C. C. Heighway.

ARMSTRONG, B.C., March 14.—At a meeting of the Armstrong City Council on Monday, March 13, the estimates for 1939, which had been prepared by the finance committee, were gone into in detail and after some discussion accepted and the tax rate for the year set at 40 mills, an increase of two mills over last year. The rate is made up as follows: general and social service, 13.4 mills; schools, 14.1; and interest and sinking funds, 12.5. An increase in school expenditures is accountable for 1.1 mills of the rise in the rate. Last year the total rate was 38 mills.

Municipal Improvements Assistance Act

At a meeting of the council with regard to the B.C. Inland Rifle Association's proposal to revive the rifle meet at Armstrong. The meet would be held in the early summer and he asked the council if they would consider giving a grant in aid of the project. The council decided to leave the matter over for consideration at a later date.

A request was received that the city make a grant towards the travelling expenses of the two students who had been chosen by the pupils of the High School to represent them at Vancouver during the visit of the King and Queen. They will be the guests of the Vancouver Board of Trustees during the visit of Their Majesties to the Coast. The council acceded to the request by making a grant of $15, the amount asked for.

ARGUMENT OVER MONEY LEADS TO AN ASSAULT

KELOWNA, B.C., March 14.—Harry Kellher of Bear Creek was sentenced by Magistrate T. F. McWilliams on Saturday, March 11, to three months hard labor in Oakalla on a charge of assaulting and causing bodily harm to Karl Svean, also of Bear Creek. Evidence showed that Kellher and Herman Svean, a brother of Karl, had had an argument over money on their way to Bear Creek from Kelowna. Later Kellher waylaid Karl Svean and hit him several times over the head and face with a club.

IMPROVING ROAD

PENTICTON, B.C., March 13.—Originally commenced prior to the Great War, improvement work is at present in progress on the east side road bordering the shores of Skaha lake. This will form an alternative secondary route from Penticton southwards, and at the same time afford Penticton one more scenic drive, a circle route around Skaha lake.
